Harriman Vetoes Viaduct Arterial Plan

National Guard Test Alert Is Success in Nation

Retail Market Advice Is Given

Pleasurable Buying Stressed During Dinner of Uptown Business Group

Billings G. Burlingame, supervisor of Distributive Education, State Department of Education, speaking before the membership of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association last evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel, cautioned the members they "can't live in the past—you can't think of today, but you must think of tomorrow."

Speaking on "The Retailer and Distributive Education Looks to the Future," he advocated a long range program of planning and said there need be no fear of the future if plans are made now to meet competition and to market the ever growing products which industry is producing for the consumption of our increasing population.

PRESENTLY New York state has the greatest market for selling our ever growing products, but he cautioned other states are expanding faster than the Empire state and he said manufacturers like to follow markets. Plans to meet this trend must be made. Markets are people and only people at work have the capacity to buy the products which industry provides. It therefore becomes important to keep industry here to provide jobs which will bring income to the communities so that the consumer will have the income to purchase the commodities which industry produces.

The speaker referred to the industrial expansion of Kingston and said this pointed toward better business in the retail field and he cautioned the members of the association to prepare for this increased business and be ready to take care of it.

HE CAUTIONED that "shoppers are fickle" and that shoppers "have no loyalty to a store" if they do not have a durable experience" when shopping. In retailing "you don't stand still, you either go forward or backward," he said, and he warned that competition must be met. People go where they have "the happiest shopping experience" he said and he warned the local retailers that "retailers must not be followers—they must be in the vanguard."

Touching on the problem of business moving from present day shopping centers to the suburban centers where parking and traffic is easier, he said this would not affect the "live merchant" who would move out but he said this movement would seriously affect the "citizen" whose real estate value would decline. He suggested "a cooperative partnership between the

Exam Dates Are Given for Top Fire, Police Posts

Dates for five civil service examinations, including those for fire chief, deputy chief and police lieutenant, were announced today by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

The other tests will be for stenographer and senior stenographer in the education and building departments. That for stenographer will be open-competitive and for senior stenographer both promotional and open-competitive.

EXAMINATIONS for fire chief and deputy chief will be held May 14, that for police lieutenant June 4, and the stenographer tests will be held May 21.

Three deputy fire chiefs will be eligible to take the examination for chief. Candidates for the deputy chief post, "must have served on a permanent basis in the competitive class for at least two years as a fire captain."

Only three of the police department's six sergeants will be eligible for the police lieutenant examination because three of the

Vaccine Delayed, More Names Given

Salk inoculations for New York State school children have been delayed with first shipments of vaccine going to the southern states, it was announced today by Dr. Herman E. Hilloboe, state health commissioner.

This means, of course, that tentatively clinics scheduled in Ulster county next week must be postponed.

"It should be emphasized that the delay in scheduling the clinics is only temporary," Hilleboe said, "and should not cause undue concern on the part of parents."

HILLEBOE had announced last week that localities, at their option, would begin inoculating children in Grades 1-4 either the last week of April or the first week in May.

He reported yesterday that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis had "assured us that they will have the vaccine to us at the earliest possible date." The commissioner said he was "keeping in close touch with the foundation."

Additional names of Ulster county's 1,413 school children in Grades 1-4 who received inoculations last year are listed today on page 14.

Five on Yacht Believed Lost

Long Beach, Calif., April 21 (AP)—Five or six members of a San Francisco yachting party are believed lost in the collision of the 50-foot yawl Suomi and the Swedish motor vessel Parramatta off Pt. Arguello early today.

The coast guard said that a skiff with the name Suomi on it was recovered near the collision scene, 50 miles northwest of Santa Barbara, along with other wreckage. One body also has been recovered.

Lease Expiration Closes Roadway to Parking Grounds

Motorists who attempted to enter the free parking area back of North Front street this morning through the Fair street extension entrance found that entrance closed with a chain across the roadway.

The parking area is not closed to cars but at least temporarily the entrance from Fair street will remain closed. Entrance and exit may be made through Converse street.

SINCE THE area was taken over by the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association entrance from Fair street has been over lands formerly owned by the O. & W. Railroad and leased to Montgomery Ward. Last December the former O. & W. Railroad station property and adjacent land was sold to Herzog's for warehouse use. At that time the O. & W. Railroad gave notice of cancelation of the lease to Montgomery Ward, under a 30-day cancellation clause.

Robert Herzog today said notice had been given Montgomery Ward of such cancellation and he had requested the company to negotiate with him on a new lease. Since the lease expired in January he had been unable to negotiate with the company and since a portion of their loading platform at the rear of the store is on lands Herzog's acquired from the railroad, he has now closed the entrance over the property.

HERZOG SAID he had been reluctant to close the portion over which the roadway to the parking area runs but in order to close entrance to the loading platform, a portion of which is on the newly acquired land, it was necessary to chain off the entire roadway.

A portion of the Ward loading platform is on lands owned by Mrs. Vincent Gorman and leased to Wards but a part is also on the Herzog property,

Final Rates Are Given For 4 Ulster Villages

Final state equalization rates applicable to their 1955 fiscal year have been established for 394 villages, the State Board of Equalization and Assessment at Albany announced today.

In Ulster county rates were listed for the following villages: New Paltz, old rate, 52, final rate, 30; Pine Hill, old rate, 49, final rate, 25; Rosendale, old rate, 41, final rate, 18, and Saugerties, old rate 87, final rate, 47.

These final rates are the same as the tentative rates which were established on February 23 and March 25. They are based upon the last completed assessment roll of the locality.

The board's action followed two days of hearihgs on the revised village rates. None of the 394 villages whose rates were made final sent representatives to the hearings or filed protests with the board.

Action on the tentative new rates for 128 other villages has been postponed. Thirty-one of these submittted protests which will require study. The board is obtaining additional information for the remaining 97.

U.S. Sees Strength Of Forces

Eskimos Excused In 'Watch' Area

Washington, April 21 (AP)—The National Guard's new role in this era of possible atomic war—a Minuteman's defense of the homeland—was tested in a surprise mobilization which drew praise from defense planners today.

Guardsmen in more than 2,000 communities from Florida to Alaska sprang to arms or took to the air last night in response to a surprise alert flashed from the Pentagon.

Maj. Gen. Edgard C. Erickson, chief of the National Guard Bureau, said preliminary reports gave "conclusive proof" that the army and air guard can be assembled by the state governors in a "rapid and efficient manner for service in any state or national emergency."

IT MAY BE days before reports are in from the 5,600 Guard units listed to take part in the big test. But the National Guard Bureau estimated early this morning that some 280,000 men were at their battle stations or assembly points within two hours of the zero hour which was known in advance to only a handful of officers.

This turnout represented 8 out of every 10 citizen soldiers who were on the "alarm" lists prepared by the state Guard organizations for this first continent-wide mobilization test in peacetime history. Officials stressed that it was a test only, with no cause for alarm.

SOME 50,000 of the Guard's current total strength of about 400,000 men were excluded from the alert because their units are undergoing reorganization.

Units were advised several weeks ago that there would be a test, but the date and time remained a closely held secret. Not until about 6 p. m. (EST) last night did the Pentagon planners give the word, for an alert to start a half-hour later in the east and at staggered times in other time zones.

In Orlando, Fla., David Long reported to his company in full dress clothes. He was excused from participating when he explained it was his wedding night.

IN ONE WESTERN state, an amateur radio operator got the word to four communities. In parts of several southern states affected by a telephone workers' strike, guard officials used couriers—modern Paul Reveres—to spread the word of the alert.

Most of the units were mobilized by direct telephone calls, back-stopped by announcements from commercial radio stations.

The one American guard unit almost within shooting distance of Russian territory was deliberately excluded from the test, because it must be on watch all the time. The unit, manned partly by Eskimos, is on little Diomede Island in the Bering Straits between Alaska and Soviet Siberia, only a short distance from the Russian-held big Diomede Island.

156th Has 88 Per Cent Turn Out

State Mobilizes Within Few Hours

The National Guard mobilized more than 27,000 men in New York state on a few hours notice Wednesday night as part of a nationwide test alert, according to the Associated Press, and the 156th Armored Field Artillery Battalion with units here and in Poughkeepsie assembled 88 per cent of its 500 men during the trial.

Maj. Gen. Karl F. Hausauer, the state's commanding general, said he was "most satisfied and proud" of Operation Minuteman.

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commander of the 156th, said, "I am greatly pleased, considering the distances our men have to travel." Guardsmen serving hurried in from various sectors of Ulster county to the state armory on Manor avenue.

LOCAL GUARDSMEN were alerted by the signal 156 on the fire sirens, by radio and television. Phone calls were made from the armory to officers of the battalion.

An hour after the 6:30 p. m. alert, the 156th had a 40 per cent attendance; 70 per cent at 8:30 and by 10:30 88 per cent. Operation Minuteman was a success here, Colonel Harkin said as he smiled about it being held on the birthday of Adolf Hitler, which this year went unnoticed in Germany.

Harkin also pointed out Operation Minute Man came two days following the anniversary of Paul Revere's famous ride to alert the American colonists about the arrival of the British.

AS THE GUARDSMEN arrived at the armory, 120 were detailed to "secure the Rondout ereek bridge," another unit simulated drawing provisions from the F. B. Matthews Co., local grocery firm, and all of the equipment was drawn up ready to roll on orders, six self-propelled vehicles with 105 MM Howitzers and 30 trucks and jeeps.

Units of the 156th here are A Battery, Lt. James Ashdown, commander; Headquarters Battery, Capt. Andrew B. Grier, commander; Service Battery, Lieutenant Edward Schrowang, commander and Medical Detachment, Capt. David Jones, commander. B Battery in Poughkeepsie is commanded by Capt. Gilbert Calhoun and C Battery by Capt. John Martell.

Gen. Hausauer said at Albany that 90.2 per cent of the state's army guardsmen and 84.3 per cent of its air guard had reported for duty in the first three hours after the 8 p. m. alert. The announcement of the mobilization was made at 6:30 p. m.

THE CITIZEN soldiers hurried to armories, donned battle dress and drew weapons to repel an imaginary attack.

Jet fighters scrambled aloft. Tanks and artillery rolled into the streets. Armed men patrolled roads and bridges.

Troops guarded vital military, public and communications centers. Machine gun positions

Cashin May Have Chance for Post

Ulster County Judge Strong in Race For Federal Bench as Politicos War

A New York report today citing political controversy over filling a federal court bench vacancy revealed that County Judge John M. Cashin may be in the race.

The Associated Press said two newspapers report that former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Republican bigwigs may reach political sword-points over filling the vacancy.

The New York Times and the New York Herald Tribune said the immediate issue is who will succeed to a vacancy left by the retirement of Southern District Judge Edward A. Conger. Both said William B. Herlands, former state commissioner of investigation under Dewey, has "the inside track," for the judgeship.

BUT ACTIVE opposition to Herlands' appointment by upstate and Westchester county GOP leaders, they said, may even threaten the tenure of state Republican Chairman L. Judson Morhouse.

The newspapers said strong efforts are being made to win the job for Ulster County Judge John M. Cashin.

Leo Egan, brother of Attorney John Egan, Woodstock, writing in The Times, saw the bench appointment as the latest manifestation of a struggle raging within state GOP ranks for control of federal patronage in New York.

"THE PRINCIPAL point at issue," Egan said, "is the amount of influence former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey should exercise . . . ramifications are extending to other actual or prospective vacancies on the federal bench."

David McConnell of the Herald Tribune wrote:

"A revolt against dominance of the Republican party in New York state by former Gov. Dewey . . . started when upstate Republican leaders learned that the Department of Justice was considering only the name of William B. Herlands . . ."

Herlands lived in New York city. His political career has been associated with Dewey's.

BOTH THE TIMES and Tribune said Herlands' name has been submitted to the Justice Department for clearance and to

Bottleneck To Traffic Will Stay

Plunket Favored Republican Bills

Kingston's latest move to eliminate the Washington avenue viaduct as a traffic bottleneck and to make additions to the city's state-planned arterial route plan was voided this week by Gov. Averell Harriman's veto, it was announced today.

The governor vetoed a bill introduced by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson. It called for amending the arterial route plan to include addition of Hurley avenue and part of Washington avenue to the plan with elimination of the viaduct as an objective.

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, substituted Wilson's bill in the Senate. It passed in both houses recently and was forwarded for Gov. Harriman's signature.

ATTORNEY Thomas J. Plunket, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee, who indicated he had been sounded by the governor for local sentiment on the proposal, last Friday in a statement to The Freeman, expressed himself as solidly in support of the amendment measure.

Assemblyman Wilson said today that he and Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy had learned of the veto late yesterday. Wilson said the bill was vetoed "without comment."

The assemblyman introduced the bill last Feb. 22, after the local Common Council on request of Mayor Frederick H. Stang, had bid for state action aimed principally at eliminating the viaduct.

Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy, before the move for additions to the arterial route plan, had applied to the Public Service Commission for an order to eliminate the structure, which is more than 40 years old.

IMPORTANT opinion in the state public works department favored elimination of the narrow overpass, and it was felt locally that this would bear weight with the governor, even though he had indicated at the start of his term that he favored curtailment of public works projects.

Addition of all of Hurley avenue to the arterial route plan is considered important because of that route's nearness to the New York State Thruway west of the city. Addition of Washington avenue, the experts say, is equally important because of the need for eliminating the narrow structure which overpasses two railroads now on light train schedule.

THE STATE, at the time it presented its preliminary draft of the arterial route plan to Mayor Stang, did not include the viaduct problem, because of apparent belief that its proposed spur connection with the thruway west of the city, would minimize travel over the structure.

Traffic over Route 209 to and from the thruway, however, it was noted, would tend to use Washington avenue over the viaduct from the city line to the Hurley avenue intersection, and this point was noted in the bid for additions to the arterial route plan.

The arterial route plan, now being prepared by consultant engineers, is due for construction next year. Besides providing for a spur to connect the thruway interchange with main city thoroughfares at a point near Albany avenue and Broadway, it would add parts of Broadway, McEntee and Wurts street to the system. A traffic circle or interchange would be built in the

Gold Explains Terms In Real Estate Deals

To earn a commission a real estate broker must produce a purchaser "ready, willing and able" financially to buy on the terms offered by the seller, Special City Judge Harry Gold told the closing session of the Lower Hudson Regional Conference on Real Estate Problems yesterday afternoon at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Gold pointed out that "all the terms must be agreed upon by the parties, not merely the price." He advised brokers to obtain complete terms from the seller on listing the property so that the seller would be bound thereby.

The broker must do more than merely show the property, Gold told approximately 100 realtors at the final session of the day-long conference. "It must be through his efforts that there came a meeting of minds. Also, he has not earned his commission if he brings a purchaser when he has not been hired as a broker. He is in effect a mere volunteer."

While the hiring of a broker

Retail Market Advice Is Given

Pleasurable Buying Stressed During Dinner of Uptown Business Group

Billings G. Burlingame, supervisor of Distributive Education, State Department of Education, speaking before the membership of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association last evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel, cautioned the members they "can't live in the past—you can't think of today, but you must think of tomorrow."

Speaking on "The Retailer and Distributive Education Looks to the Future," he advocated a long range program of planning and said there need be no fear of the future if plans are made now to meet competition and to market the ever growing products which industry is producing for the consumption of our increasing population.

Three deputy fire chiefs will be eligible to take the examination for chief. Candidates for the deputy chief post, "must have served on a permanent basis in the competitive class for at least two years as a fire captain."

Vaccine Delayed, More Names Given

Salk inoculations for New York State school children have been delayed with first shipments of vaccine going to the southern states, it was announced today by Dr. Herman E. Hilloboe, state health commissioner.

This means, of course, that tentatively clinics scheduled in Ulster county next week must be postponed.

He reported yesterday that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis had "assured us that they will have the vaccine to us at the earliest possible date." The commissioner said he was "keeping in close touch with the foundation."

Additional names of Ulster county's 1,413 school children in Grades 1-4 who received inoculations last year are listed today on page 14.

Five on Yacht Believed Lost

Long Beach, Calif., April 21 (AP)—Five or six members of a San Francisco yachting party are believed lost in the collision of the 50-foot yawl Suomi and the Swedish motor vessel Farramatta off Pt. Arguello early today.

The coast guard said that a skiff with the name Suomi on it was recovered near the collision scene, 50 miles northwest of Santa Barbara, along with other wreckage. One body also has been recovered.

Lease Expiration Closes Roadway to Parking Grounds

Motorists who attempted to enter the free parking area back of North Front street this morning through the Fair street extension entrance found that entrance closed with a chain across the roadway.

The parking area is not closed to cars but at least temporarily the entrance from Fair street will remain closed. Entrance and exit may be made through Converse street.

SINCE THE area was taken over by the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association entrance from Fair street has been over lands formerly owned by the O. & W. Railroad and leased to Montgomery Ward. Last December the former O. & W. Railroad station property and adjacent land was sold to Herzog's for warehouse use. At that time the O. & W. Railroad gave notice of cancelation of the lease to Montgomery Ward, under a 30-day cancellation clause.

Robert Herzog today said notice had been given Montgomery Ward of such cancellation and he had requested the company to negotiate with him on a new lease. Since the lease expired in January he had been unable to negotiate with the company and since a portion of their loading platform at the rear of the store is on lands Herzog's acquired from the railroad, he has now closed the entrance over the property.

HERZOG SAID he had been reluctant to close the portion over which the roadway to the parking area runs but in order to close entrance to the loading platform, a portion of which is on the newly acquired land, it was necessary to chain off the entire roadway.

A portion of the Ward loading platform is on lands owned by Mrs. Vincent Gorman and leased to Wards but a part is also on the Herzog property,

Final Rates Are Given For 4 Ulster Villages

Final state equalization rates applicable to their 1955 fiscal year have been established for 394 villages, the State Board of Equalization and Assessment at Albany announced today.

In Ulster county rates were listed for the following villages: New Paltz, old rate, 52, final rate, 30; Pine Hill, old rate, 49, final rate, 25; Rosendale, old rate, 41, final rate, 18, and Saugerties, old rate 87, final rate, 47.

These final rates are the same as the tentative rates which were established on February 23 and March 25. They are based upon the last completed assessment roll of the locality.

The board's action followed two days of hearihgs on the revised village rates. None of the 394 villages whose rates were made final sent representatives to the hearings or filed protests with the board.

Action on the tentative new rates for 128 other villages has been postponed. Thirty-one of these submittted protests which will require study. The board is obtaining additional information for the remaining 97.

U.S. Sees Strength Of Forces

Eskimos Excused In 'Watch' Area

Washington, April 21 (AP)—The National Guard's new role in this era of possible atomic war—a Minuteman's defense of the homeland—was tested in a surprise mobilization which drew praise from defense planners today.

156th Has 88 Per Cent Turn Out

State Mobilizes Within Few Hours

The National Guard mobilized more than 27,000 men in New York state on a few hours notice Wednesday night as part of a nationwide test alert, according to the Associated Press, and the 156th Armored Field Artillery Battalion with units here and in Poughkeepsie assembled 88 per cent of its 500 men during the trial.

Maj. Gen. Karl F. Hausauer, the state's commanding general, said he was "most satisfied and proud" of Operation Minuteman.

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commander of the 156th, said, "I am greatly pleased, considering the distances our men have to travel." Guardsmen serving hurried in from various sectors of Ulster county to the state armory on Manor avenue.

LOCAL GUARDSMEN were alerted by the signal 156 on the fire sirens, by radio and television. Phone calls were made from the armory to officers of the battalion.

An hour after the 6:30 p. m. alert, the 156th had a 40 per cent attendance; 70 per cent at 8:30 and by 10:30 88 per cent. Operation Minuteman was a success here, Colonel Harkin said as he smiled about it being held on the birthday of Adolf Hitler, which this year went unnoticed in Germany.

SOME FISHIN'—Donald Jolly, 13, Peabody, Mass., high school freshman, looks at some of the approximately $1,000 in cash he hooked April 19 while fishing in the Ipswich river. The money, weighted with a tire chain, may possibly have been part of the $681,700 loot from a 1952 armored car robbery in nearby Danvers. The money is spread on a table in police headquarters to dry. (AP Wirephoto).

Cashin May Have Chance for Post

Ulster County Judge Strong in Race For Federal Bench as Politicos War

A New York report today citing political controversy over filling a federal court bench vacancy revealed that County Judge John M. Cashin may be in the race.

The Associated Press said two newspapers report that former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Republican bigwigs may reach political sword-points over filling the vacancy.

The New York Times and the New York Herald Tribune said the immediate issue is who will succeed to a vacancy left by the retirement of Southern District Judge Edward A. Conger. Both said William B. Herlands, former state commissioner of investigation under Dewey, has "the inside track," for the judgeship.

BUT ACTIVE opposition to Herlands' appointment by upstate and Westchester county GOP leaders, they said, may even threaten the tenure of state Republican Chairman L. Judson Morhouse.

The newspapers said strong efforts are being made to win the job for Ulster County Judge John M. Cashin.

Leo Egan, brother of Attorney John Egan, Woodstock, writing in The Times, saw the bench appointment as the latest manifestation of a struggle raging within state GOP ranks for control of federal patronage in New York.

"THE PRINCIPAL point at issue," Egan said, "is the amount of influence former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey should exercise . . . ramifications are extending to other actual or prospective vacancies on the federal bench."

David McConnell of the Herald Tribune wrote:

"A revolt against dominance of the Republican party in New York state by former Gov. Dewey . . . started when upstate Republican leaders learned that the Department of Justice was considering only the name of William B. Herlands . . ."

Herlands lived in New York city. His political career has been associated with Dewey's.

BOTH THE TIMES and Tribune said Herlands' name has been submitted to the Justice Department for clearance and to

Bottleneck To Traffic Will Stay

Plunket Favored Republican Bills

Kingston's latest move to eliminate the Washington avenue viaduct as a traffic bottleneck and to make additions to the city's state-planned arterial route plan was voided this week by Gov. Averell Harriman's veto, it was announced today.

The governor vetoed a bill introduced by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson. It called for amending the arterial route plan to include addition of Hurley avenue and part of Washington avenue to the plan with elimination of the viaduct as an objective.

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, substituted Wilson's bill in the Senate. It passed in both houses recently and was forwarded for Gov. Harriman's signature.

ATTORNEY Thomas J. Plunket, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee, who indicated he had been sounded by the governor for local sentiment on the proposal, last Friday in a statement to The Freeman, expressed himself as solidly in support of the amendment measure.

Assemblyman Wilson said today that he and Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy had learned of the veto late yesterday. Wilson said the bill was vetoed "without comment."

The assemblyman introduced the bill last Feb. 22, after the local Common Council on request of Mayor Frederick H. Stang, had bid for state action aimed principally at eliminating the viaduct.

Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy, before the move for additions to the arterial route plan, had applied to the Public Service Commission for an order to eliminate the structure, which is more than 40 years old.

IMPORTANT opinion in the state public works department favored elimination of the narrow overpass, and it was felt locally that this would bear weight with the governor, even though he had indicated at the start of his term that he favored curtailment of public works projects.

Addition of all of Hurley avenue to the arterial route plan is considered important because of that route's nearness to the New York State Thruway west of the city. Addition of Washington avenue, the experts say, is equally important because of the need for eliminating the narrow structure which overpasses two railroads now on light train schedule.

THE STATE, at the time it presented its preliminary draft of the arterial route plan to Mayor Stang, did not include the viaduct problem, because of apparent belief that its proposed spur connection with the thruway west of the city, would minimize travel over the structure.

Traffic over Route 209 to and from the thruway, however, it was noted, would tend to use Washington avenue over the viaduct from the city line to the Hurley avenue intersection, and this point was noted in the bid for additions to the arterial route plan.

The arterial route plan, now being prepared by consultant engineers, is due for construction next year. Besides providing for a spur to connect the thruway interchange with main city thoroughfares at a point near Albany avenue and Broadway, it would add parts of Broadway, McEntee and Wurts street to the system. A traffic circle or interchange would be built in the

To earn a commission a real estate broker must produce a purchaser "ready, willing and able" financially to buy on the terms offered by the seller, Special City Judge Harry Gold told the closing session of the Lower Hudson Regional Conference on Real Estate Problems yesterday afternoon at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Gold pointed out that "all the terms must be agreed upon by the parties, not merely the price." He advised brokers to obtain complete terms from the seller on listing the property so that the seller would be bound thereby.

The broker must do more than merely show the property, Gold told approximately 100 realtors at the final session of the day-long conference. "It must be through his efforts that there came a meeting of minds. Also, he has not earned his commission if he brings a purchaser when he has not been hired as a broker. He is in effect a mere volunteer."

While the hiring of a broker

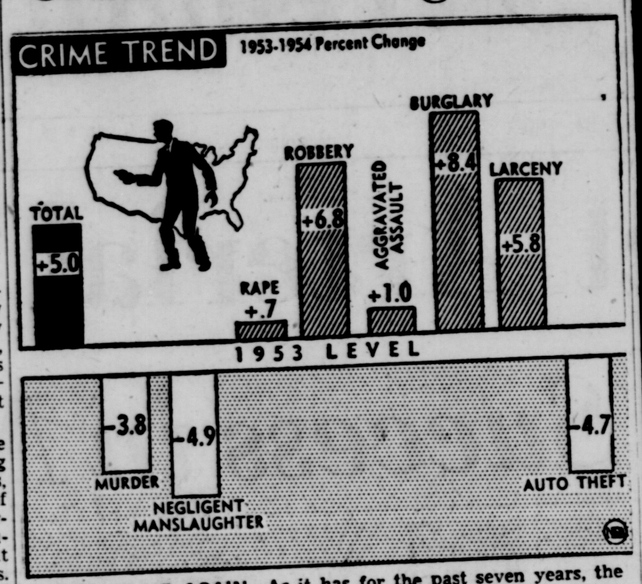
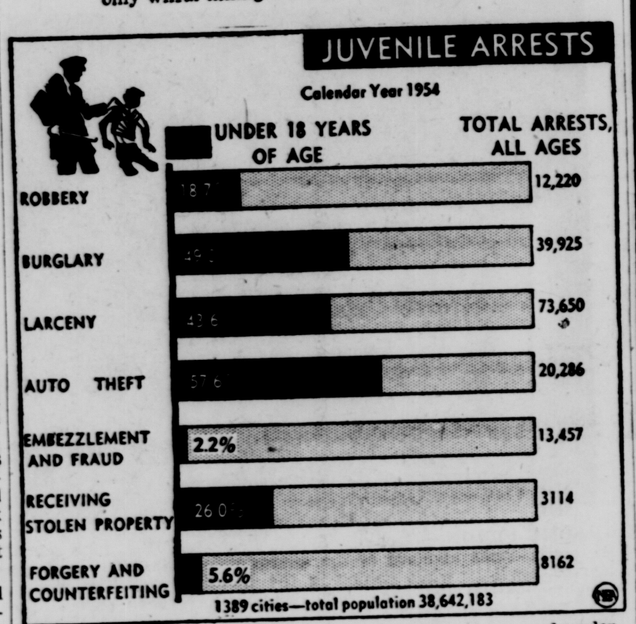
For the Seventh Year—

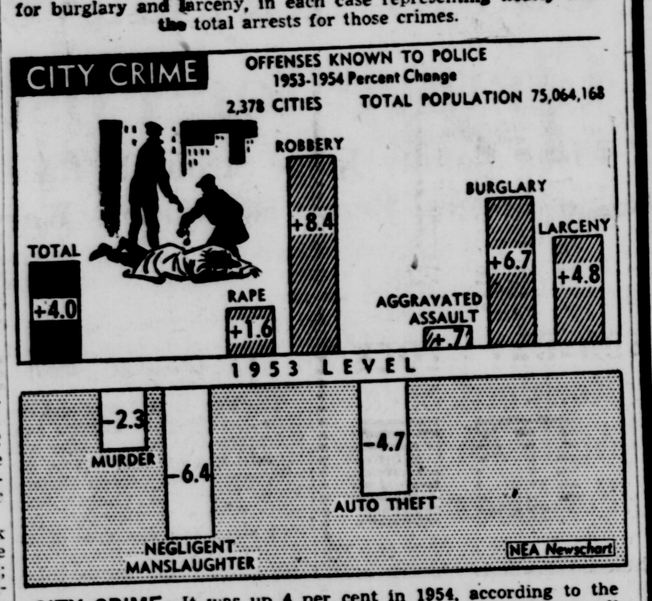
Crime Rises Again



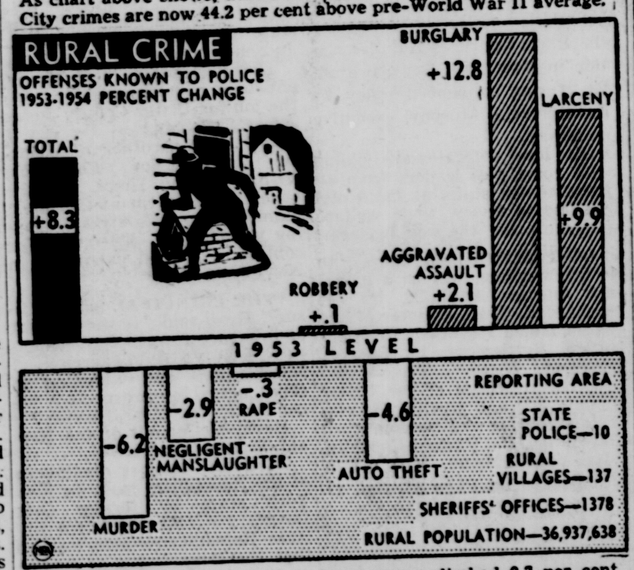
CRIME IS UP AGAIN—As it has for the past seven years, the annual crime report of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shows that the trend of major crimes in 1954 was up. The rise was five per cent, representing a new high of 2,267,250 estimated major crimes. That's 108,170 above the 1953 total. As chart above shows, only wilful killing and auto thefts dropped off.



JUVENILE CRIME—Youngsters from 17 years of age and under represented 9.7 per cent of all arrests in 1389 cities during 1954, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's annual crime report. As chart above shows, more than half of all arrests for auto theft were juveniles. Youngsters were also high in arrests for burglary and larceny, in each case representing nearly half the total arrests for those crimes.



CITY CRIME—It was up 4 per cent in 1954, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's annual report. Increases in all cities (grouped by size) ranged from 2.4 per cent to 7.4 per cent. As chart above shows, willful killings and auto thefts were down. City crimes are now 44.2 per cent above pre-World War II average.



COUNTRY CRIME—Crime in rural areas climbed 8.3 per cent in 1954, according to the annual Federal Bureau of Investigation report. As chart above shows, willful killings, rapes and auto thefts were down, but all other major crimes were up. Figures compiled from reports sent in by 1525 law enforcement agencies, representing a rural population of almost 37,000,000.

The House Tuesday night sent the measure to the Senate by a vote of 132-44. Most opposition came from Republicans. There was no debate. New Jersey's Legislature has already passed its enabling legislation for the proposed project.

Against Death Penalty

Hartford, Conn., April 21 (AP)—The Connecticut Legislature's Joint Judiciary Committee has approved a bill that would abolish the death penalty in Connecticut. The committee's favorable report was a major victory for advocates of abolition of capital punishment because it will be the first time in many years such a bill will get to the floor of either the House or Senate. In sessions past, the judiciary committee had rejected such bills.

Soviet Takes Credit

Moscow, April 21 (AP)—The Soviet Union took full credit today for prospects that a treaty restoring Austria's independence may be signed. Two hours later he was due to preside at a session of the National Security Council.

Output, Buying Helped

Albany, April 21 (AP)—Rising factory output and strengthened retail buying improved the state's economic situation in February, Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson reported today. The department's business activity index rose to 121, a gain of two points over January and five points over February, 1954. The index, measuring total volume of business activity, uses 1947-49 conditions as the base period of 100.

Marlborough Man Is Sentenced to 300 Days in Jail

Robert Hargroves, 36, of Marlborough was sentenced on three charges placed against him by state police Saturday evening.

In an appearance before Justice of the Peace Fred C. Woolsey, Hargroves was sentenced to 180 days on a third degree assault charge, 90 days on a malicious mischief charge and 30 days on a public intoxication charge. He pleaded guilty to all three charges, state police said.

The assault charge was placed against Hargroves when troopers alleged he "turned on" Trooper Joseph Franke of the Highland station while the latter was placing him under arrest on the intoxication charge. Trooper Franke was treated for a torn cartilage in his knee.

Competition Cited

Newark, N. J., April 21 (AP)—Highway competition was cited by a New York Central Railroad executive yesterday as a reason for the line's decision to drop passenger service on its West Shore Division. Nickerson, vice president of the railroad's passenger service section, told the state Public Utility Commission that passengers who normally would ride the West Shore trains have shifted to highway travel.

GOOD PROGRESS SO FAR

It's an old business to look at Congress about this time every year and mutter "not much done" so far. Actually, the Easter break in 1955 found things a little better in some respects, with one especially welcome novelty.

The first session of the narrowly Democratic 84th Congress can, for instance, mark up a pretty impressive record in the field of foreign affairs.

It endorsed the Formosa resolution supporting the President in whatever moves he deems necessary to the defense of Formosa and the nearby Pescadores islands. At the same time the Senate approved a mutual defense pact with the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

Of wider significance in the Asiatic region, the Senate accepted the Southeast Asia Treaty bringing friendly Asian lands into a defense pact aimed at blocking the southward flow of Chinese communism.

And, more recently, the Senate approved with rare dispatch the so-called Paris agreements pulling West Germany into NATO and authorizing German rearmament within the Western defense network. This step caps the military structure erected in Europe to bar the westward flow of Russian communism.

Important as these strides are, they do not represent the whole of the task to be done in foreign affairs this year. There is still the matter of foreign technical and military aid appropriations, with the technical aid program of especial value for the Asian area. And there is the controversial matter of liberalizing foreign trade law to allow our friends abroad to build more self-reliant economies by selling more of their output.

On domestic issues, the story thus far is not so bright. The main achievement up to Easter was a negative one—the successful beating down to the $20 per person income tax cut which seemed unwarranted by budget prospects.

Still caught up in indecisive House and Senate committee tangles are such vital programs as highway and school construction assistance. The country must hope sincerely that Democratic objections to President Eisenhower's proposals in those fields will not prevent passage of badly needed legislation. The nation's requirements for more and better schools and highways must be met swiftly. The programs deserve top priority.

Also meriting prompt attention are bills calling for substantial pay increases for postal and other federal workers, and statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. This Congress could further distinguish itself by beating down an attempt to restore rigid farm price supports.

The novelty in the 84th up to now has been the relative lack of emphasis on investigations, which for some years past had begun to seem like the major business of Congress. Aside from the stock market inquiry, most of the 1955 probes have been pretty modest affairs. The restoration of balance and perspective to this congressional function is a healthy sign.

If one had to sum up as of now, the judgment probably would be: Much still to be done, but better than average progress so far.

FOREST FIRES

Grass fires are one of the chief causes of forest fires in New York State according to the State University of New York College of Forestry.

The direct damage caused by forest fires each year is estimated at 392 million dollars. Together with the destruction of timber there is heavy damage to watersheds.

The state Conservation Department has prepared a list of precautions to be taken in order to prevent grass fires resulting from the burning of papers, refuse, debris, leaf rakings or brush. They include the following:

Whenever possible, burn old papers and other refuse in fireproof containers; when it is necessary to burn heavy material such as brush, select a location that is at least 30 to 40 feet removed from dry grassland; never do outdoor burning during periods of high winds; never leave a fire unattended until it is out.

The fellow who keeps looking for work even after he's found it will be the first to sight success.

RACE

The Bandung Conference is the assertion of race. It represents the assertion first of racial equality of the Asiatic and African peoples; in time will come the assertion of racial superiority.

Race is the most emotional, the most dynamic factor in human history. It is the sense of being "chosen," of being foremost, of being superior. Racial preservation is a powerful incentive not only for self-adoration as for hatred of others. Modern anthropologists tend to deny race as unscientific, as an inaccurate division of the human race. Whether they are more correct than their forebears is not for me to say one way or the other, but race constantly asserts itself politically in the atitudes of peoples and it is race that is meeting at Bandung—yellow and brown and black, men who believe that they are equal or possibly superior because of their racial origins and of carefully nurtured traditions.

To the pigmented peoples, the so-called "white" folk of Western Europe are newcomers on the world scene who during the 18th and 19th centuries managed to turn ancient races into natives who lived in colonies. During those centuries, these races learned to hate the white man, to hate him as a racial inferior, a racial parvenu who had come into possession of their world.

Take Nehru as an example. This man culturally is an Englishman. The language he has used most of his life until he became the master of India was English. He lived most of the important years of his education in Western Europe, being educated at Harrow and Cambridge and reading law in the Inner Temple. He was closer to the socialistic trends of the West than to any influences in Asia until he joined Gandhi.

One would imagine that such a man would be British in sympathy and even affiliation. But he is not because of race. Racially he is a Hindu. Culture, self-interest, personal associations mean very little in the presence of race.

Mahatma Gandhi, who revived the peoples of India, racially complex, to a strong sense of freedom, always took the position that he opposed race; yet every position he took increased sense of race among all the racial groups in Asia. K. R. Kripalani, discussing the relations of Gandhi and the great Indian poet, Tagore, wrote:

"Though Gandhi had become the spearhead of Indian nationalism and Tagore was looked upon as the prophet of internationalism, Gandhi's mission of liberation embraces the entire humanity, and Tagore's love of his country was as deep-rooted and as intense as Gandhi's. 'I am wedded to India,' says Gandhi, 'because I believe absolutely that she has a mission for the world. My religion has no geographical limits. I have a living faith in it, which will transcend even my love for India herself.' Again: 'For me, patriotism is the same as humanity. I am patriotic because I am human and humane. . . .'"

In Asia, patriotism and race are identical. That is why it had to be that as soon as freedom came to India, it had to split up. It had to become two countries, India and Pakistan, with Kashmir outside of each and the Pathans trying to organize a state of their own.

It will be this sense of race that Communist China will face in Asia as the British faced it since Clive. For whereas the Chinese have always regarded themselves as the superior of all races, the oldest civilization on Earth, the Sons of Han, with whom none could compare, many of the other races of Asia decline to recognize such a sense of superiority. It will be something to note when the "humanitarian" Nehru and the Marxist Chou En-lai, who theoretically believe in a raceless world, vie for the control of Asia through racial emphasis.

For it is the struggle between India and Red China for supremacy that must come out of the Bandung Conference. Here Hindu, Chinese, Mongolian, Arab line up the races of Asia on a doctrine that differences do not divide; that there is strength and the prospect of unity in hatred for the so-called "white man," in revenge for centuries of umbrage at the hands of newcomers. Such a concept can let loose a scourge that can last for centuries and that can force upon the Europeans and Americans—the Westerners, in short—decades of defensive necessity.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

ALCOHOLISM AND DRUG ADDICTION

Addiction to alcohol or any narcotic, such as morphine, seems to rest on the same inner motives: the addict is deeply dissatisfied with himself and the world around him and feels an overwhelming need to get relief from mental, emotional or physical pain. These factors have been found important in the development of addiction: (1) degree of emotional or physical discomfort; (2) ability to endure discomfort; and (3) the strength and character of the internal controls of behavior.

Now there is no doubt that discomfort of some sort exists in every human life, but the so-called normal person can tolerate most of the unpleasant experiences of daily life and needs no chemical assistance to see him through the ordinary routine. The person who may become an addict, on the other hand, once he has discovered the pain-reducing properties of alcohol or drugs, feels an overwhelming attraction toward this method of solving his inner tensions. It is easier, quicker, and less painful than attacking his problems directly to the best of his ability.

Whether the addict takes to alcohol or a drug depends on his own personality, what he hopes to attain from the alcohol or drug, and attitude of society. Whether alcohol or a drug is used, they both have a decided pain-reducing action and they help to screen out from the consciousness some of the things that cause pain or unhappiness.

"Of great importance in determining the choice of intoxicant is the attitude of society. In western culture, for instance, opium is more strongly condemned than alcohol whereas in some Oriental cultures, the reverse is true. Among the Chinese, for example, a placid temperament is highly valued while violence in any form is disparaged. Thus it is not surprising that alcohol intoxication is rare in China while addiction to opium is tolerated. The reverse is true in North America where alcohol intoxication is often regarded with amusement and even the 'fighting drunk' is sometimes admired for his spirit of pugnacity."

The essentials in treatment of any addiction are felt to be: control of the addict for a considerable period; removal of as many sources of discomfort as possible; increasing the ability of the patient to endure discomfort; strengthening the controls imposed by the ego and the conscience, and most difficult of all, correction of the habit of "taking something" for every feeling of discomfort or unhappiness.

Bubble Bath

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The flap over the Swiss watch case in Washington has now reached utterly fantastic proportions.

Both the American jeweled watch manufacturers and the importers of Swiss movements are wearing injured airs of high moral righteousness in their full-page ads and press releases to injure each other. But what this has boiled down to is international cut-throat business competition.

It is a long economic warfare that goes back to the days when wrist watches were invented, and the alert Swiss began to capture the American market.

The last chapter began in July, 1954, after a U. S. Office of Defense Mobilization committee recommended protection of the American jeweled watch industry skills as essential to American national defense. President Eisenhower then approved increases of up to 50 per cent in tariffs on Swiss watch movement imports.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN had once refused to grant such an increase. So the Swiss importers immediately began a publicity counterattack to upset the Eisenhower decision.

First move was to secure release of a 1952 Department of Defense report which declared that the American jeweled watch industry needed no "special nor preferential treatment." In 1951 the American jeweled watch industry had produced a record three million movements and seemed to be solidly on its feet.

But by 1954 production had fallen to 1.7 million movements. The prospects for 1955 production were even lower. It was feared that Waltham, one of the four American producers which had been in trouble for years, might fold. The Waltham plant in Massachusetts and the Bulova plants on Long Island, N. Y., were also found to be in potential bomb target areas.

On the basis of these findings, the ODM committee of Defense, State, Treasury, Commerce and Labor Department secretaries reviewed the situation. They recommended that American jeweled watch production be supported at a minimum of two million movements a year to preserve the skills of 4,000 watchmakers needed for national defense.

THIS DECISION confirmed a National Security Resources Board recommendation of 1952, when the Democrats were still in control in Washington. Watch importers' representatives, however, immediately set up a yak that the new ODM decision and the Eisenhower tariff action were prejudicial.

It was pointed out that Gen. Omar Bradley, now head of Bulova's research, had been chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and was a close friend of Ike's. It was pointed out that Marx Leva, former Department of Defense chief counsel, was now counsel for Bulova. And it was further mentioned that the law firm of Louis Johnson, Truman's secretary of defense, was counsel for the American Watch Manufacturers' Assn.

How all these Democrats could be expected to get favors from a GOP administration wasn't explained, and didn't make sense.

BUT THE PLOT WAS thickened by assertions that Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and President Eisenhower's former special assistant in charge of National Security Council affairs, Robert Cutler, were both New Englanders with an interest in Waltham.

Just how much influence they had is shown by the fact that Secretary Weeks had recommended that the American watch industry production be kept at three million units a year. He was voted down in the ODM committee and the figure was kept at two million.

When Department of Commerce opened an exhibit of American watch industry defense products, however, the Swiss industry spokesmen took it as another sign of discrimination against them.

The six months that have elapsed since the tariffs on Swiss watches were raised have not provided a fair measure of the effects on American or Swiss watch industries. But the campaign now being waged for control of the multimillion-dollar U. S. watch market with bitter personal attack on American officials is an indication of the high stakes in this international trade war.

Special Cabinet Setup of 10 to 20 More Men Considered Ideal to Assist President

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 21—When the White House announced the other day that a firm of management engineers had been employed "to make a thorough and objective study of the present and probable future space requirements of the Presidency as an institution," it was doubtless assumed that only the physical problem of rearranging the scattered offices was involved.

But there's more to it than new buildings and wings to be added to present structures.

The truth is that "the Presidency as an institution" has grown bigger than any one man. No man can perform the duties of Chief of State, with the countless audiences to greet visitors with scores of little speeches—delivered usually to satisfy Congressional requests—and also carry on the policy-making function on both the administrative and legislative sides. There just isn't enough time and enough mental energy available for any one man to do what is required today by the Presidency.

Having observed through several Presidential terms the workings of the executive offices and having talked with the many secretaries who have handled the administrative business of the Presidential office in preceding terms, this writer has witnessed a momentous evolution in the executive establishment during the last four decades.

The basic concept held by most people is that the President is a sort of general manager, which means he is held responsible for the important decisions in administering the vast departments and bureaus created by Congress. But he is also the policy maker on both domestic and foreign questions and must make legislative recommendations besides. While all this is carried out in his name, the public is unaware of the many anonymous advisers who play a part in those fateful decisions.

In many cases the President merely affirms a judgment made by others or selects a course of action out of several proposed to him by his advisers. No one man could possibly familiarize himself with the background of all the questions on which the President is called upon to make decisions.

Obviously the President needs assistants. They should not be technical men without a background of experience in national and international affairs but good all-around men of national stature. The anomaly prevails today that the "administrative assistants" or "special assistants" wield more power and influence than do Cabinet members. Mr. Eisenhower has been able to get some men to serve only because he has invited them to attend Cabinet meetings, thus giving them the feeling that they are part of the Cabinet team, though not possessing any titles bestowed by Congress.

The problem is not new. Other Presidents have let persons outside the cabinet come to cabinet meetings and have given them broad authority in his name to formulate important policies. This is a loosely set up and in some respects invisible government. The public doesn't know who is or is not accountable for public policy, and the press is kept in the dark, too, because of the "passion for anonymity" which some administrative assistants cultivate as a means of avoiding public controversy.

The ideal situation for America would be to require that ten to twenty more cabinet members be appointed at the discretion of a President, but with confirmation by the Senate stipulated. These men could be obliged to give their full time to the presidential office without any direct responsibility for any particular department. Departmental secretaries could be appointed, just as the secretaries of the Army, the navy and the Air Force today operate these three big departments but do not sit in the cabinet because the secretary of defense is there in their behalf.

A Cabinet committee of three could act in a supervisory capacity with respect not only to the government departments but to the executive agencies and independent commissions. The remaining members of the Cabinet would have the primary function of advising the President on everything. What has messed up the picture in the past has been the interjection of advice to a President from the outside — by persons who have no responsibility to the public or the Congress but who enjoy a telephone friendship with a President.

Such an irregular and irresponsible activity would not be harmful if a Cabinet council were set up with full responsibility alongside the President. It could screen outside suggestions and evaluate them in full discussion with the President.

Mr. Eisenhower recently gave unofficial status of Cabinet rank to Harold Stassen to handle the all-important problem of disarmament. Yet this is an international question and belongs theoretically at least in the Department of State. What would have made this unnecessary would have been the creation inside the State Department of a council of seven men of national prestige who could give their full time to policy making. They could advise the Secretary of State just as a Cabinet advises a President.

There's need for more personnel, more advisers, more assistants for the Chief Executive on both the administrative and policy-making sides, but it is desirable that the whole institution of the Presidency be reorganized on a more systematic and orderly plan rather than be left to the haphazard basis on which a President operates today. The Congress, moreover, should provide by law for the new establishment instead of letting it drift along as at present without co-ordination or, indeed, responsibility directly to Congress or the people.

Gifford M. Gnarl, a savant and engineer in the field of electrical communication, has expounded a new method of education for both children and persons of college age which would scrap most of the physical plant of the educational system and disemploy most of the teachers. Mr. Gnarl has been living near San Diego for about two years, not incognito, for he has not tried to mask his identity, but in seclusion so that he could study in the California hotbeds the more drastic experiments in "progressive" education and political indoctrination without coming into controversies which would distract him. He has reached one striking conclusion which seems entirely original. The process of "progressive" education and politico-social training is not "brain-washing." On the contrary, Mr. Gnarl writes, it is "brain-pollution." Therefore, he says, millions of Americans who have gone through the works both in the schools and the armed services, should be "brain-washed," or decontaminated. However, he grants that they probably will not be for lack of time and opportunity in the remainder of their lives.

But the curriculum which Mr. Gnarl would compound to replace public teaching is of less immediate interest than his method itself.

In a brochure entitled "High-O, Algebra!" this is described as a plan "to substitute individual education for mass baby-sitting at fantastic public expense." The proposal is best understood in its simplest terms. Therefore, Mr. Gnarl suggests that the public consider his plan in its application to the primary school and defer for the time being more complex problems in the field of higher education.

Television and, to a minor degree, radio and telephone are his implements.

"It is pathetic," he writes, "that a nation so vain of its intellectual status and its mechanical genius cannot think of progress in education except in terms of large, expensive edifices which include, by compulsion, many built-in distractions. Anything that a teacher, can teach to a class of 20 or 50 children in a public school, can be taught the same pupils, each alone or in small groups, at home on the television screen. The truth of this is so simple. But there will be angry resentment against not only my proposal but against me for putting it forward. Before the United States can begin to enjoy the great benefit of this reform, the whole nation, barring a few exceptions who will be thought 'eccentric', must be brain-washed of a superstition as harmful as any fallacy in man's stumbling progress thus far.

"Mothers will revile me because the teacher relieves them of a solemn duty imposed by God to oversee their children. How many times have all of us heard young mothers exclaim in exasperation: 'Oh, how happy I will be when that little darling is old enough to go to school'? Such young mothers are but children themselves in their knowledge of the duty and function of motherhood. Supervision of their children is not a function of the federal government. It is not the responsibility of the local government. The owners of homes in the neighborhood, including homeowners with no children or whose children have grown up, have no duty to pay taxes to provide this personal convenience for these young women. Parents of such children, incapable of thoughtful examination of the facts, earnestly believe that by producing children they confer a favor on the state. This is disgraceful. But they cannot be blamed. All their lives they have been victims of the same ignorant superstition—it cannot be called thought—of their elders.

"Parenthood is a private matter. It provides its own spiritual rewards and, in the normal order of things, now violated on every hand, its own material rewards. Children are the only legitimate 'social security' of parents. Mrs. A's children are a delight to her and Mr. A usually, they are not a delight but are, more often, a nuisance to the neighbors. They certainly are not a delight to the state or the neighboring taxpayers. But the thought in the minds of most young parents is that one of these days the little boys will spring to arms to defend the homes of all of us. The girls will be WAACs, nurses or 'defense workers.' Surely it is not necessary in the vaunted state of our mass intellect to refute this degrading nonsense point by point. If it does need refutation in detail that only goes to prove that mass-education in soulless public institutions has done great harm.

"No American politician or statesman has ever dared state the frightening proposition that the production of cannon-foduer is a legitimate purpose of matrimony. Or that, at birth, the state has a lien on the services and the life of a child in return for the public expense of its 'education.'

"My plan is elementary. The efficiency of television and radio communication is so high that the principal remaining problem is presented by the parents. The mother wants to be 'free.' She may prefer to hold a job. In that case she and her husband reap a financial profit at the expense of neighbors who pay taxes to build schools, pay teachers and supply recreation and even food for the children.

"The teachers' unions will be furious for selfish reasons. Jobs by the hundred-thousand are at stake. Contractors and suppliers of building materials, will join the teachers' lobby and the PTA to maintain this devouring and more and more impudent institution."

Mr. Gnarl concedes that not all families can afford television but insists that the number is smaller than his opponents will suggest. If they can afford alcoholic beverages, he says, they can buy TV's. For a tiny minority who truly cannot afford television or radio, accommodation could be made by public funds.

"The curriculum at first would still be poisonous," he writes. "But no more so than it is today and the parents would be able to see and hear 'school.' At present they do not. The great victory here would be the absolute demolition of the public school, a monster which is taking us over spiritually, politically, intellectually and financially."

GOOD PROGRESS SO FAR

It's an old business to look at Congress about this time every year and mutter "not much done" so far. Actually, the Easter break in 1955 found things a little better in some respects, with one especially welcome novelty.

The first session of the narrowly Democratic 84th Congress can, for instance, mark up a pretty impressive record in the field of foreign affairs.

It endorsed the Formosa resolution supporting the President in whatever moves he deems necessary to the defense of Formosa and the nearby Pescadores islands. At the same time the Senate approved a mutual defense pact with the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

Of wider significance in the Asiatic region, the Senate accepted the Southeast Asia Treaty bringing friendly Asian lands into a defense pact aimed at blocking the southward flow of Chinese communism.

And, more recently, the Senate approved with rare dispatch the so-called Paris agreements pulling West Germany into NATO and authorizing German rearmament within the Western defense network. This step caps the military structure erected in Europe to bar the westward flow of Russian communism.

Important as these strides are, they do not represent the whole of the task to be done in foreign affairs this year. There is still the matter of foreign technical and military aid appropriations, with the technical aid program of especial value for the Asian area. And there is the controversial matter of liberalizing foreign trade law to allow our friends abroad to build more self-reliant economies by selling more of their output.

On domestic issues, the story thus far is not so bright. The main achievement up to Easter was a negative one—the successful beating down to the $20 per person income tax cut which seemed unwarranted by budget prospects.

Still caught up in indecisive House and Senate committee tangles are such vital programs as highway and school construction assistance. The country must hope sincerely that Democratic objections to President Eisenhower's proposals in those fields will not prevent passage of badly needed legislation. The nation's requirements for more and better schools and highways must be met swiftly. The programs deserve top priority.

Also meriting prompt attention are bills calling for substantial pay increases for postal and other federal workers, and statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. This Congress could further distinguish itself by beating down an attempt to restore rigid farm price supports.

The novelty in the 84th up to now has been the relative lack of emphasis on investigations, which for some years past had begun to seem like the major business of Congress. Aside from the stock market inquiry, most of the 1955 probes have been pretty modest affairs. The restoration of balance and perspective to this congressional function is a healthy sign.

If one had to sum up as of now, the judgment probably would be: Much still to be done, but better than average progress so far.

FOREST FIRES

Grass fires are one of the chief causes of forest fires in New York State according to the State University of New York College of Forestry.

The direct damage caused by forest fires each year is estimated at 392 million dollars. Together with the destruction of timber there is heavy damage to watersheds.

The state Conservation Department has prepared a list of precautions to be taken in order to prevent grass fires resulting from the burning of papers, refuse, debris, leaf rakings or brush. They include the following:

Whenever possible, burn old papers and other refuse in fireproof containers; when it is necessary to burn heavy material such as brush, select a location that is at least 30 to 40 feet removed from dry grassland; never do outdoor burning during periods of high winds; never leave a fire unattended until it is out.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

RACE

The Bandung Conference is the assertion of race. It represents the assertion first of racial equality of the Asiatic and African peoples; in time will come the assertion of racial superiority.

Race is the most emotional, the most dynamic factor in human history. It is the sense of being "chosen," of being foremost, of being superior. Racial preservation is a powerful incentive not only for self-adoration as for hatred of others. Modern anthropologists tend to deny race as unscientific, as an inaccurate division of the human race. Whether they are more correct than their forebears is not for me to say one way or the other, but race constantly asserts itself politically in the atitudes of peoples and it is race that is meeting at Bandung—yellow and brown and black, men who believe that they are equal or possibly superior because of their racial origins and of carefully nurtured traditions.

To the pigmented peoples, the so-called "white" folk of Western Europe are newcomers on the world scene who during the 18th and 19th centuries managed to turn ancient races into natives who lived in colonies. During those centuries, these races learned to hate the white man, to hate him as a racial inferior, a racial parvenu who had come into possession of their world.

Take Nehru as an example. This man culturally is an Englishman. The language he has used most of his life until he became the master of India was English. He lived most of the important years of his education in Western Europe, being educated at Harrow and Cambridge and reading law in the Inner Temple. He was closer to the socialistic trends of the West than to any influences in Asia until he joined Gandhi.

One would imagine that such a man would be British in sympathy and even affiliation. But he is not because of race. Racially he is a Hindu. Culture, self-interest, personal associations mean very little in the presence of race.

Mahatma Gandhi, who revived the peoples of India, racially complex, to a strong sense of freedom, always took the position that he opposed race; yet every position he took increased sense of race among all the racial groups in Asia. K. R. Kripalani, discussing the relations of Gandhi and the great Indian poet, Tagore, wrote:

"Though Gandhi had become the spearhead of Indian nationalism and Tagore was looked upon as the prophet of internationalism, Gandhi's mission of liberation embraces the entire humanity, and Tagore's love of his country was as deep-rooted and as intense as Gandhi's. 'I am wedded to India,' says Gandhi, 'because I believe absolutely that she has a mission for the world. My religion has no geographical limits. I have a living faith in it, which will transcend even my love for India herself.' Again: 'For me, patriotism is the same as humanity. I am patriotic because I am human and humane. . . .'"

In Asia, patriotism and race are identical. That is why it had to be that as soon as freedom came to India, it had to split up. It had to become two countries, India and Pakistan, with Kashmir outside of each and the Pathans trying to organize a state of their own.

It will be this sense of race that Communist China will face in Asia as the British faced it since Clive. For whereas the Chinese have always regarded themselves as the superior of all races, the oldest civilization on Earth, the Sons of Han, with whom none could compare, many of the other races of Asia decline to recognize such a sense of superiority. It will be something to note when the "humanitarian" Nehru and the Marxist Chou En-lai, who theoretically believe in a raceless world, vie for the control of Asia through racial emphasis.

For it is the struggle between India and Red China for supremacy that must come out of the Bandung Conference. Here Hindu, Chinese, Mongolian, Arab line up the races of Asia on a doctrine that differences do not divide; that there is strength and the prospect of unity in hatred for the so-called "white man," in revenge for centuries of umbrage at the hands of newcomers. Such a concept can let loose a scourge that can last for centuries and that can force upon the Europeans and Americans—the Westerners, in short—decades of defensive necessity.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Addiction to alcohol or any narcotic, such as morphine, seems to rest on the same inner motives: the addict is deeply dissatisfied with himself and the world around him and feels an overwhelming need to get relief from mental, emotional or physical pain. These factors have been found important in the development of addiction: (1) degree of emotional or physical discomfort; (2) ability to endure discomfort; and (3) the strength and character of the internal controls of behavior.

Now there is no doubt that discomfort of some sort exists in every human life, but the so-called normal person can tolerate most of the unpleasant experiences of daily life and needs no chemical assistance to see him through the ordinary routine. The person who may become an addict, on the other hand, once he has discovered the pain-reducing properties of alcohol or drugs, feels an overwhelming attraction toward this method of solving his inner tensions. It is easier, quicker, and less painful than attacking his problems directly to the best of his ability.

Whether the addict takes to alcohol or a drug depends on his own personality, what he hopes to attain from the alcohol or drug, and attitude of society. Whether alcohol or a drug is used, they both have a decided pain-reducing action and they help to screen out from the consciousness some of the things that cause pain or unhappiness.

"Of great importance in determining the choice of intoxicant is the attitude of society. In western culture, for instance, opium is more strongly condemned than alcohol whereas in some Oriental cultures, the reverse is true. Among the Chinese, for example, a placid temperament is highly valued while violence in any form is disparaged. Thus it is not surprising that alcohol intoxication is rare in China while addiction to opium is tolerated. The reverse is true in North America where alcohol intoxication is often regarded with amusement and even the 'fighting drunk' is sometimes admired for his spirit of pugnacity."

The essentials in treatment of any addiction are felt to be: control of the addict for a considerable period; removal of as many sources of discomfort as possible; increasing the ability of the patient to endure discomfort; strengthening the controls imposed by the ego and the conscience, and most difficult of all, correction of the habit of "taking something" for every feeling of discomfort or unhappiness.

Bubble Bath

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The flap over the Swiss watch case in Washington has now reached utterly fantastic proportions.

Both the American jeweled watch manufacturers and the importers of Swiss movements are wearing injured airs of high moral righteousness in their full-page ads and press releases to injure each other. But what this has boiled down to is international cut-throat business competition.

It is a long economic warfare that goes back to the days when wrist watches were invented, and the alert Swiss began to capture the American market.

The last chapter began in July, 1954, after a U. S. Office of Defense Mobilization committee recommended protection of the American jeweled watch industry skills as essential to American national defense. President Eisenhower then approved increases of up to 50 per cent in tariffs on Swiss watch movement imports.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN had once refused to grant such an increase. So the Swiss importers immediately began a publicity counterattack to upset the Eisenhower decision.

First move was to secure release of a 1952 Department of Defense report which declared that the American jeweled watch industry needed no "special nor preferential treatment." In 1951 the American jeweled watch industry had produced a record three million movements and seemed to be solidly on its feet.

But by 1954 production had fallen to 1.7 million movements. The prospects for 1955 production were even lower. It was feared that Waltham, one of the four American producers which had been in trouble for years, might fold. The Waltham plant in Massachusetts and the Bulova plants on Long Island, N. Y., were also found to be in potential bomb target areas.

On the basis of these findings, the ODM committee of Defense, State, Treasury, Commerce and Labor Department secretaries reviewed the situation. They recommended that American jeweled watch production be supported at a minimum of two million movements a year to preserve the skills of 4,000 watchmakers needed for national defense.

THIS DECISION confirmed a National Security Resources Board recommendation of 1952, when the Democrats were still in control in Washington. Watch importers' representatives, however, immediately set up a yak that the new ODM decision and the Eisenhower tariff action were prejudicial.

It was pointed out that Gen. Omar Bradley, now head of Bulova's research, had been chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and was a close friend of Ike's. It was pointed out that Marx Leva, former Department of Defense chief counsel, was now counsel for Bulova. And it was further mentioned that the law firm of Louis Johnson, Truman's secretary of defense, was counsel for the American Watch Manufacturers' Assn.

How all these Democrats could be expected to get favors from a GOP administration wasn't explained, and didn't make sense.

BUT THE PLOT WAS thickened by assertions that Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and President Eisenhower's former special assistant in charge of National Security Council affairs, Robert Cutler, were both New Englanders with an interest in Waltham.

Just how much influence they had is shown by the fact that Secretary Weeks had recommended that the American watch industry production be kept at three million units a year. He was voted down in the ODM committee and the figure was kept at two million.

When Department of Commerce opened an exhibit of American watch industry defense products, however, the Swiss industry spokesmen took it as another sign of discrimination against them.

The six months that have elapsed since the tariffs on Swiss watches were raised have not provided a fair measure of the effects on American or Swiss watch industries. But the campaign now being waged for control of the multimillion-dollar U. S. watch market with bitter personal attack on American officials is an indication of the high stakes in this international trade war.

Today in Washington

Special Cabinet Setup of 10 to 20 More Men Considered Ideal to Assist President

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 21—When the White House announced the other day that a firm of management engineers had been employed "to make a thorough and objective study of the present and probable future space requirements of the Presidency as an institution," it was doubtless assumed that only the physical problem of rearranging the scattered offices was involved.

But there's more to it than new buildings and wings to be added to present structures.

The truth is that "the Presidency as an institution" has grown bigger than any one man. No man can perform the duties of Chief of State, with the countless audiences to greet visitors with scores of little speeches—delivered usually to satisfy Congressional requests—and also carry on the policy-making function on both the administrative and legislative sides. There just isn't enough time and enough mental energy available for any one man to do what is required today by the Presidency.

Having observed through several Presidential terms the workings of the executive offices and having talked with the many secretaries who have handled the administrative business of the Presidential office in preceding terms, this writer has witnessed a momentous evolution in the executive establishment during the last four decades.

The basic concept held by most people is that the President is a sort of general manager, which means he is held responsible for the important decisions in administering the vast departments and bureaus created by Congress. But he is also the policy maker on both domestic and foreign questions and must make legislative recommendations besides. While all this is carried out in his name, the public is unaware of the many anonymous advisers who play a part in those fateful decisions.

In many cases the President merely affirms a judgment made by others or selects a course of action out of several proposed to him by his advisers. No one man could possibly familiarize himself with the background of all the questions on which the President is called upon to make decisions.

Obviously the President needs assistants. They should not be technical men without a background of experience in national and international affairs but good all-around men of national stature. The anomaly prevails today that the "administrative assistants" or "special assistants" wield more power and influence than do Cabinet members. Mr. Eisenhower has been able to get some men to serve only because he has invited them to attend Cabinet meetings, thus giving them the feeling that they are part of the Cabinet team, though not possessing any titles bestowed by Congress.

The problem is not new. Other Presidents have let persons outside the cabinet come to cabinet meetings and have given them broad authority in his name to formulate important policies. This is a loosely set up and in some respects invisible government. The public doesn't know who is or is not accountable for public policy, and the press is kept in the dark, too, because of the "passion for anonymity" which some administrative assistants cultivate as a means of avoiding public controversy.

The ideal situation for America would be to require that ten to twenty more cabinet members be appointed at the discretion of a President, but with confirmation by the Senate stipulated. These men could be obliged to give their full time to the presidential office without any direct responsibility for any particular department. Departmental secretaries could be appointed, just as the secretaries of the Army, the navy and the Air Force today operate these three big departments but do not sit in the cabinet because the secretary of defense is there in their behalf.

A Cabinet committee of three could act in a supervisory capacity with respect not only to the government departments but to the executive agencies and independent commissions. The remaining members of the Cabinet would have the primary function of advising the President on everything. What has messed up the picture in the past has been the interjection of advice to a President from the outside — by persons who have no responsibility to the public or the Congress but who enjoy a telephone friendship with a President.

Such an irregular and irresponsible activity would not be harmful if a Cabinet council were set up with full responsibility alongside the President. It could screen outside suggestions and evaluate them in full discussion with the President.

Mr. Eisenhower recently gave unofficial status of Cabinet rank to Harold Stassen to handle the all-important problem of disarmament. Yet this is an international question and belongs theoretically at least in the Department of State. What would have made this unnecessary would have been the creation inside the State Department of a council of seven men of national prestige who could give their full time to policy making. They could advise the Secretary of State just as a Cabinet advises a President.

There's need for more personnel, more advisers, more assistants for the Chief Executive on both the administrative and policy-making sides, but it is desirable that the whole institution of the Presidency be reorganized on a more systematic and orderly plan rather than be left to the haphazard basis on which a President operates today. The Congress, moreover, should provide by law for the new establishment instead of letting it drift along as at present without co-ordination or, indeed, responsibility directly to Congress or the people.

So They Say..

Russia has an extremely strong military organization and is getting stronger all the time. It would be a catastrophe if we (U. S.) should falter now.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

Bloomington, Ind., April 21 (AP)—Ernie Pyle died on a far Pacific isle 10 years ago this week, as the war he hated was drawing to an end.

He now lies buried in a U. S. military cemetery in Hawaii among the servicemen whose story he told with simple eloquence. But in another sense Ernie didn't stay overseas. He is back home here forever on the campus of Indiana University, where in student days he first dreamed of winning newspaper fame.

CERTAINLY his spirit is enshrined here. Ernie remains a living symbol to hundreds of fledgling young newspaper men and women who are bolstered in both heart and hope by the example of his career.

Ernie never was graduated by his alma mater. He quit during his senior year to go to work. Some of the oldtimers here say he left because of a broken romance with a red-haired girl. Others say, "no, it was just because he was Ernie—already restless to be on his way."

Once Pyle did leave the campus in January 1923, he stayed away for 21 years. He loved the university but said he wanted to remember it as he had known it in his youth. He came back once in his lifetime—to take an honorary degree in 1944. A few months later he was killed by a sniper's bullet on Ie Shima.

BUT TODAY the personality of the shy, brooding farmboy who became the greatest battle reporter of his generation dominates his old school.

A $500,000 journalism building has been named in his honor. A plaque commemorating his achievements has been set up by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity.

In the lounge of Ernie Pyle Hall are collected a number of mementoes of the correspondent. They include the entrenching tool he used to dig his own foxholes, a beat-up dress cap he wore in London, his battered portable typewriters, his medals, and one of the last columns he wrote before his death.

"THE STUDENTS" are quite proud of the Pyle tradition," said John E. Stempel, chairman of the journalism department, who himself was a friend and classmate of Ernie's. "They asked that the building be named after him.

"We still have the desk Ernie used when he was editor of the paper. It is being reglued right now, so it will last for another 30 or 40 years."

A MEMORIAL FUND of more than $50,000 raised by newspaper admirers has provided some 60 Ernie Pyle journalism scholarships during the postwar years. Many of them went to war veterans, and Stempel said most of the winners have gone on and done well in newspaper work.

"Ernie himself had a good academic record while he was in school, he remarked.

Standing before the glass case that holds his typewriter, the same typewriter I had so often seen Ernie beat out his copy on during the war years, I had a haunted feeling, as if the man himself were invisibly present.

Certainly if he could know what has been done here in his name, I'm sure Ernie Pyle couldn't ask for a happier memorial. He was a man of unceasing small kindnesses in his lifetime. Now a decade after his death he remains an inspiration and a concrete help to struggling youngsters learning the writing craft he himself ennobled.

Labor Relations Battle

Washington, April 21 (AP) — The outcome of the wave of strikes now sweeping the south is likely to have a profound and lasting effect on labor relations in Dixie. If employers win, it will discourage the unions. After years of trying they have to date been largely unsuccessful in organizing southern workers, although they've made some progress. If unions win, it will prime them into a fresh drive to win bargaining rights from reluctant employes. Right now the unions admit they are pretty well on the ropes. They're still trying but they say they represent only about 10 per cent of the south's workers.

Conway, 61, former city judge and one-time mayoral candidate, received cabled word today from his wife that he died suddenly in Rome where they arrived a few days ago to start a tour of the continent. Rosendale

Film Is Presented On Rheumatic Fever

Rosendale, April 21—Preceding the meeting of the Women's Club of Rosendale April 14 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Stein of Stone Ridge, a film entitled The Valiant Heart was shown by Joseph Merola of the Ulster County TB and Health Association. The film, a story of an eight-year-old boy stricken with rheumatic fever and the effect it had on him, his family and his community was most educational in that it explained the symptoms of rheumatic fever, its possible effect on the heart and the proper way to care for a child stricken with this disease.

Following the showing of the film, Mr. Merola answered several questions regarding rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart.

Barbara Barbato, Arlene Freer, Mary Mastro, Kathleen O'Leary and Maureen Steeley, members of Troop 3, Girl Scouts, attended the meeting to express thanks to the Woman's Club for sponsoring the local troop and to explain some of the duties of a Girl Scout. Later they accepted orders for Girl Scout cookies.

Mrs. Arthur Mulligan and her committee have recently purchased two new navy hospital beds and ordered foam rubber mattresses to be made for them. It was noted that one bed was loaned out the day after it was purchased. An offer of a donation of either money or an article for the closet was made by the ladies auxiliary of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company.

In respect to the loan closet and its method of operation it was disclosed that anyone in the town of Rosendale may borrow any hospital equipment available. There is absolutely no charge. One need only have a request from an attending physician. Members of the committee who should be contacted are Mrs. Arthur Mulligan, Mrs. John Duffy, Sr., Mrs. Charles George and Mrs. Arthur O'Leary.

Mrs. Joseph Stein reported on a meeting which she attended last February at the town of Marbletown School. At this meeting Dr. Herbert Johnson of Kingston spoke on the problem of difficulty in reading. Mrs. Stein reported that Dr. Johnson said 10 to 15 per cent of the children cannot read properly although they may be more intelligent than average in other subjects. Since these children should have professional help with their reading problems, he asked for local help to start a Reading Circle.

A $10 donation was sent to the Ada Y. Franklin Scholarship Fund.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mmes. Joseph Stein, Raymond Temple, Herman Walsh and Walter Williams.

It was announced that the Woman's Club will sponsor a food sale Saturday at the Towne Shoppe on Main street. Proceeds will be for the club's treasury.

the New York City Bar for endorsement. The judgeship requires nomination by President Eisenhower.

The Times said Herlands' appointment is being opposed by Rep. Dean P. Taylor, a former state GOP chairman and national committeeman, the Westchester county GOP organization, and others.

The Times said Taylor reportedly filed a protest with Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman, causing presentation of Herlands' name to the Senate to be held up.

THE TIMES said Taylor's candidate is Cashin.

The Herald Tribune reported that Sen. Arthur H. Wicks, a political foe of Dewey, also opposes Herlands and favors Cashin. Wicks is from Kingston, Ulster county seat.

The Herald Tribune further reported that the Dewey forces are said to have agreed to withdraw Herland's name for the Conger post but plan to present it again upon the retirement at the end of the month of Judge John C. Knox, senior judge in the southern district.

According to the Herald Tribune, however, Westchester Republicans have their own plans as to who should occupy that post.

Strange Shot

Norfolk, Va. (AP)—There was reason enough for Alexander Moses Warden's car to go out of control and plunge into a deep water-filled ditch. Hospital physicians later found a bullet lodged deep in his head. It had penetrated through the left ear passage without leaving a visible sign. Warden, 53, a retired minister, was pulled unconscious from the ditch by another motorist. At the hospital he regained consciousness and said he couldn't imagine where the shot came from.

Bandit Control

Canton, Ohio (AP) — Don't try this yourself, but it worked for a woman clerk, Miss Anie Tanotta, at Susie's Grocery. When a bandit poked a gun at her and ordered her to put up her hands, Miss Tanotta shoved him toward the door and ordered him to "get out of here." The man ran out and was still running the last she could see of him, she told police.

Bottleneck . . .

triangular area formed at Albany avenue, Broadway and East St. James street, and Fair street extension would be connected with the thruway spur.

A NEW CITY approach to the Rondout creek bridge was also proposed, but it has since been indicated that this phase of the plan would be delayed pending further study of traffic trends. Streets added to the system would be widened where necessary and all would be state-maintained.

Plunket said copies of the Assembly and Senate bills were sent to him by Gov. Harriman with the request that they be checked and the governor advised as to whether they should be signed into law.

"They were sent to me for checking locally . . . and I shall recommend to him that he sign the legislation," he said.

OFFICIAL COMMENT today indicated that the governor's veto of the Wilson-Wicks measure, makes the city's problem of solving the viaduct bottleneck a remote one, without acceptance of full cost of the project locally.

The proposed amended plan had been approved locally by many officials, organizations, and business groups and the Chamber of Commerce.

Stork Helpers

Pittsburgh, Pa. (AP) — Ambulance drivers of the Pittsburgh Police Department often are nicknamed "stork assistants" by fellow officers. Now they will be entitled to the more formal title "obstetrical first aidmen." The title will be included in a certificate to be given to policemen completing a course taught by Dr. Clarence Ingram. Fifty policemen—all ambulance drivers — enrolled for the first classes. Officer John Pektas, a member of the police force for 14 years, was the student picked as most likely to succeed. He has assisted at 44 deliveries and says: "Mothers and children all have done well."

Labor Relations Battle

Washington, April 21 (AP) — The outcome of the wave of strikes now sweeping the south is likely to have a profound and lasting effect on labor relations in Dixie. If employers win, it will discourage the unions. After years of trying they have to date been largely unsuccessful in organizing southern workers, although they've made some progress. If unions win, it will prime them into a fresh drive to win bargaining rights from reluctant employes. Right now the unions admit they are pretty well on the ropes. They're still trying but they say they represent only about 10 per cent of the south's workers.

Rosendale

Film Is Presented On Rheumatic Fever

Rosendale, April 21—Preceding the meeting of the Women's Club of Rosendale April 14 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Stein of Stone Ridge, a film entitled The Valiant Heart was shown by Joseph Merola of the Ulster County TB and Health Association. The film, a story of an eight-year-old boy stricken with rheumatic fever and the effect it had on him, his family and his community was most educational in that it explained the symptoms of rheumatic fever, its possible effect on the heart and the proper way to care for a child stricken with this disease.

Following the showing of the film, Mr. Merola answered several questions regarding rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart.

Barbara Barbato, Arlene Freer, Mary Mastro, Kathleen O'Leary and Maureen Steeley, members of Troop 3, Girl Scouts, attended the meeting to express thanks to the Woman's Club for sponsoring the local troop and to explain some of the duties of a Girl Scout. Later they accepted orders for Girl Scout cookies.

Mrs. Arthur Mulligan and her committee have recently purchased two new navy hospital beds and ordered foam rubber mattresses to be made for them. It was noted that one bed was loaned out the day after it was purchased. An offer of a donation of either money or an article for the closet was made by the ladies auxiliary of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company.

In respect to the loan closet and its method of operation it was disclosed that anyone in the town of Rosendale may borrow any hospital equipment available. There is absolutely no charge. One need only have a request from an attending physician. Members of the committee who should be contacted are Mrs. Arthur Mulligan, Mrs. John Duffy, Sr., Mrs. Charles George and Mrs. Arthur O'Leary.

Mrs. Joseph Stein reported on a meeting which she attended last February at the town of Marbletown School. At this meeting Dr. Herbert Johnson of Kingston spoke on the problem of difficulty in reading. Mrs. Stein reported that Dr. Johnson said 10 to 15 per cent of the children cannot read properly although they may be more intelligent than average in other subjects. Since these children should have professional help with their reading problems, he asked for local help to start a Reading Circle.

A $10 donation was sent to the Ada Y. Franklin Scholarship Fund.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mmes. Joseph Stein, Raymond Temple, Herman Walsh and Walter Williams.

It was announced that the Woman's Club will sponsor a food sale Saturday at the Towne Shoppe on Main street. Proceeds will be for the club's treasury.

GETS AEC POST—Brig. Gen. K. E. Fields, 46, has been appointed general manager of the Atomic Energy Commission. The Elkhart, Ind., soldier succeeds Maj. Gen. K. D. Nichols, who resigned.

Cashin May . . .

the New York City Bar for endorsement. The judgeship requires nomination by President Eisenhower.

The Times said Herlands' appointment is being opposed by Rep. Dean P. Taylor, a former state GOP chairman and national committeeman, the Westchester county GOP organization, and others.

The Times said Taylor reportedly filed a protest with Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman, causing presentation of Herlands' name to the Senate to be held up.

THE TIMES said Taylor's candidate is Cashin.

The Herald Tribune reported that Sen. Arthur H. Wicks, a political foe of Dewey, also opposes Herlands and favors Cashin. Wicks is from Kingston, Ulster county seat.

The Herald Tribune further reported that the Dewey forces are said to have agreed to withdraw Herland's name for the Conger post but plan to present it again upon the retirement at the end of the month of Judge John C. Knox, senior judge in the southern district.

According to the Herald Tribune, however, Westchester Republicans have their own plans as to who should occupy that post.

Strange Shot

Norfolk, Va. (AP)—There was reason enough for Alexander Moses Warden's car to go out of control and plunge into a deep water-filled ditch. Hospital physicians later found a bullet lodged deep in his head. It had penetrated through the left ear passage without leaving a visible sign. Warden, 53, a retired minister, was pulled unconscious from the ditch by another motorist. At the hospital he regained consciousness and said he couldn't imagine where the shot came from.

Bandit Control

Canton, Ohio (AP) — Don't try this yourself, but it worked for a woman clerk, Miss Anie Tanotta, at Susie's Grocery. When a bandit poked a gun at her and ordered her to put up her hands, Miss Tanotta shoved him toward the door and ordered him to "get out of here." The man ran out and was still running the last she could see of him, she told police.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 21 (AP)—The stock market made limited headway today in the early afternoon. Prices were largely mixed.

The market appeared to be dominated by the actions of individual issues responding to corporate developments.

Some gains ran on out to around 5 points, but most changes were spanned by 2 points either way.

Trading was rather good at a pace around three million shares for the day. Yesterday's total with the market slightly higher was 3,090,000 shares.

Bottleneck . . .

triangular area formed at Albany avenue, Broadway and East St. James street, and Fair street extension would be connected with the thruway spur.

A NEW CITY approach to the Rondout creek bridge was also proposed, but it has since been indicated that this phase of the plan would be delayed pending further study of traffic trends. Streets added to the system would be widened where necessary and all would be state-maintained.

Plunket said copies of the Assembly and Senate bills were sent to him by Gov. Harriman with the request that they be checked and the governor advised as to whether they should be signed into law.

"They were sent to me for checking locally . . . and I shall recommend to him that he sign the legislation," he said.

OFFICIAL COMMENT today indicated that the governor's veto of the Wilson-Wicks measure, makes the city's problem of solving the viaduct bottleneck a remote one, without acceptance of full cost of the project locally.

The proposed amended plan had been approved locally by many officials, organizations, and business groups and the Chamber of Commerce.

Stork Helpers

Pittsburgh, Pa. (AP) — Ambulance drivers of the Pittsburgh Police Department often are nicknamed "stork assistants" by fellow officers. Now they will be entitled to the more formal title "obstetrical first aidmen." The title will be included in a certificate to be given to policemen completing a course taught by Dr. Clarence Ingram. Fifty policemen—all ambulance drivers — enrolled for the first classes. Officer John Pektas, a member of the police force for 14 years, was the student picked as most likely to succeed. He has assisted at 44 deliveries and says: "Mothers and children all have done well."

RENOVATED DINING ROOM at the Kirkland Hotel, renamed the Senate Room, has been completed under the supervision of Gerard Betz, architect. Dominating the room is a mural by Harry Hohnhorst, well-known artist of Woodstock, showing the Overlook Mountain from Ohayo Mountain.

Indirect lighting, acoustic ceiling and draw drapes along the entire street side of the room are features of the renovation.

Structurally, the room was shortened, but according to Max Brugmann, proprietor, the same facilities are retained by the removal of pillars and substitution of a concealed steel beam. A fireplace was installed on one end of the room. Wall-to-wall carpeting has been laid. The room has been air conditioned. Brugmann, who formerly operated Herman's Restaurant on Wall street, where Schneider's Jewelry is presently located, purchased the Kirkland in 1947. Three years ago he opened a "Dutch Rathskeller" on the basement floor as a major part in his program of improvement to the 55-year-old building at the corner of Main street and Clinton avenue. April 17—Daryl Lynn to Mr. and Mrs. William Richard Reilly, West Hurley; James Flint to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Richard Davenport, High Falls, and Michele to Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Gillen, 121 Emerson street.

A Cow's No Bull

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—James Bentley and Mathew Rivers were called into criminal court to face a charge of stealing a cow. The defendants admitted taking a bull and Judge William T. Harvery dismissed the case on the ground that the charge of cow stealing can not be sustained except by proof the animal was a cow.

Salk Won't Use Funds

Pittsburgh, April 20 (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the anti-polio vaccine, said today that contributions being sent him would be deposited in a trust fund and that none of the money would "be used by me personally." The University of Pittsburgh scientist said he thought the funds probably would be used in the field of preventive medicine. The fund was announced last night on an Edward R. Murrow TV program.

Sweet Potato Puffs Go Well With Baked Ham

BAKED SKINLESS, SHANKLESS HAM is easy to prepare and very easy to carve.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We went to a family dinner last night and everything was so good you may want to hear about it. The menu: baked ham garnished with peeled hard-cooked eggs, creamed horseradish, sweet potato puffs, green peas in curry cream sauce, green salad, hot rolls, peach pecan short cake.

Our hostess used a meaty, skinless, shankless ham. Very much easier to carve, her husband said.

To prepare the skinless, shankless ham, place it fat side up in an open baking pan and roast in a slow (325 degrees F.) oven until a roast meat thermometer inserted in the thickest muscle registers 160 degrees F. for a cook-before-eating ham or 130 degrees F. for a fully-cooked ham.

Remove from the oven, and pour off the drippings. Cut the fat surface in diagonal lines to form diamonds. Cover with a mixture of 1 cup pureed apricots and 2 tablespoons brown sugar. Return to a hot (400 degrees F.) oven for 15 minutes or until ham is golden color. Let stand 15 to 30 minutes before serving for easier carving.

Sweet Potato Puffs
(8 puffs)

Shortening for frying, 2 cups mashed sweet potatoes (1 lb. 2 ounce can), 1 egg, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 8 marshmallows, 2 cups corn flakes, crushed.

Mix sweet potatoes, egg and seasonings. Form around marshmallows into balls about 2 inches in diameter. Roll balls in corn flakes. Heat shortening to 360 degrees F. or until a bread cube browns in about 65 seconds. Fry puffs a few at a time 3 to 4 minutes or until a golden brown. Drain, Serve hot.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Baked ham, horseradish in whipped cream served in lemon cups, sweet potato puffs, peas and white onions, hot rolls, butter or margarine, watercress and onion salad, rhubarb lattice pie.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Do you know you own slaves? You do. When you turn on an electric light, you put a slave to work with the power of an able-bodied man. The hood of your car is a stable for about one hundred horses.

Mr. Hutton

Turn the faucet, and distant slaves pump water up to you from miles away. Your kitchen stove saves a hired man to saw and split wood.

Such is the Miracle of America, — the substitution of slaves of iron and steel for human muscles.

In the old South, it was a rare man who had fifty slaves to work his cotton fields.

How many work for you? Figures from the U.S. Bureau of Mines give the count. Mechanical slaves equal to the energy of approximately 110 strong men work for you around the clock.

At three and a half to a family, that is about 385 slaves to a household. Even when you are asleep, the slaves are not. They are pulling freight trains through the night, heating your home, bringing coffee and bananas across salt water to your breakfast table.

And how little they cost for board and room, these 385 slaves.

Yes, neighbor, this is the MIRACLE of AMERICA

Unsafe Jails May Be Closed by Law

Albany, April 21 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today signed a bill authorizing the state correction commissioner to close any county lockup or police station jail he deemed "unsafe, unsanitary or inadequate to provide for the separation and classification of prisoners."

The measure, effective immediately, was sponsored by the Senate and Assembly Rules Committees.

Another bill signed by Harriman cuts the maximum work week for children under 16 from 44 to 40 hours effective July 1.

The measure retains a provision of the law that restricts employment of such children to a maximum of six days a week.

SPEEDING AND other infractions of traffic rules on the state thruway now are offenses, rather than misdemeanors, under a measure signed by the governor yesterday. The new law takes the criminal stigma from such offenses.

Other bills signed by the governor:

Prohibit veterinarians from advertising for patronage.

Provide for reciprocal recognition of certificates granted by other states to certified public accountants.

Make the rose the official flower of the state.

Harriman vetoed a measure that would have required the State Liquor Authority to prove a hearing before refusing to renew a liquor license. Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson, Westchester Republican, sponsored it.

Prince Is Lecturer

Tokyo, April 21 (AP) — Prince Mikasa, younger brother of Emperor Hirohito, today began as part-time lecturer in ancient oriental history at Tokyo Women's University. University officials said his salary would be $6.40 a month.

Burlesque Petition For License Refused

New York, April 21 (AP)—New York city is not going to have burlesque says License Commissioner Edward T. McCaffrey.

He said he feels that New Yorkers don't want a return of burlesque "as standardized in the 1930's."

But if a producer failed to meet those standards, he added, there might be complaints that a show was "misadvertised because it was insufficiently naughty."

McCaffrey, who held hearings on the issue, yesterday turned down a petition by Thomas J. Phillips for a license to produce burlesque in the Orpheum Theatre, Brooklyn. Phillips had pledged that he would stage clean shows without bumps, grinds, nudity or dirty jokes.

Burlesque has been banned here since 1937.

Sentimental Reason

Dartmoor Prison, England, April 21 (AP)—A protest against the closing of the Princeton-Plymouth branch railway line was sounded yesterday by — of all people — prisoners of Dartmoor. Although most of them are not going anywhere right now, they petitioned the British Railways System not to shut down the branch line, scheduled soon for economy reasons. A prison official explained: "There is quite a sentimental attachment inside to what they call the 7:35 'Freedom Express.' That's the early morning train for which men are given a free ticket when they are released."

Rocket Kills Five

Pusan, Korea, April 21 (AP)—A rocket exploded accidentally at a U. S. Army depot 40 miles northeast of Pusan yesterday, swooshed 700 yards into a group of Korean villages, killed five and wounded three.

Home Bureau Plans Housing Tour Monday

The Ulster County Home Bureau is sponsoring a housing tour April 25. The tour will consist of stops to see newly built home as well as remodeled ones. Anyone interested is urged to attend.

The tour will start at 9:30 at the home of Eber Coy in Ardonia. For those who do not know the way there will be a lead car at Ardonia Corners at 9:20 a. m.

From the Coy's home in Ardonia the tour will proceed to Milton to visit the new home of the Ethan Allens, the remodeled kitchen of the Fred Wooleys and the John Haluskas, whose home is in the process of being remodeled.

In the afternoon, Professor Donald J. Bushey will join the tour for two landscaping conferences. One will be at a private home and one on Huguenot street in New Paltz.

A luncheon stop is planned in Milton.

The tour will end about 3 p. m. A tour sheet will presented to each person attending the tour with a brief description of each of the stops.

Homework Stops Paper

Akron, Ohio (AP)—The Minerola Times, published by Joel Freedman, 13, and Bobby Heath, 11, is out of business. In an advertisement published in the Akron Beacon Journal, the former editors explained that "Their is just to much homework for us two boys to handle and also print this paper. * * * If their is any body that we owe a debt to please call, etc." The mimeographed paper had been published about once a month for four years.

Four Held for 18 Burglaries To Face Grand Jury Action

POSSIBLE — William E. Warne is being considered for appointment as U. S. ambassador to Iran. A Democrat, Warne served four years as head of the U. S technical cooperation mission in Iran. He also served as assistant secretary of Interior.

The four young men arrested Monday in connection with a state police investigation of a series of burglaries in this area were ordered held for action of the grand jury when they appeared before Justice of the Peace Harold E. Macholdt on third degree burglary charges.

Each of the four waived examination and was remanded to the custody of the sheriff pending grand jury action. They are: Edward Nelson Houghtaling, 20, of 63 Stephan street; Robert Milton Peterson, 21, of 236 Foxhall avenue; Robert Frank Schoonmaker, 21, of 55 Grand street, and Gerard Jerome Sauer, Jr., 18, of Route 28, Kingston. None had been admitted to bail as of this morning.

State police claimed the arrest of the four cleared up a series of at least 18 burglaries over the past three or four months.

Krumville

Krumville, April 21—Mr. and Mrs. Ross Brown and niece of Modena spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and called at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Markle on the Acorn Hill road.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson and children of Long Island spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. John Bowden.

John Barringer has returned home after spending a few weeks at the home of his daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith of Lyonsville.

Mrs. Jan Botella is spending a few days in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Anderson called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vollmer Monday evening.

Mrs. Andrew Radtke is spending a few days with friends in Long Island.

Mrs. Floyd Brown spent Thursday and Friday with Mrs. Hazel Townsend in Fleischmanns.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Krom of Olive Bridge called at the home of Mrs. Katie Davis on Tuesday.

Weekend Jail

Zanesville, Ohio (AP)—Because Judge Clarence Crossland ruled she didn't tell the truth in divorce suit testimony against her husband, Mrs. Clara Belle Harmon, 27, must spend every Saturday night for a year in the detention home. She also didn't get the divorce.

Demonstration?

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP)—Church congregation members did a double-take recently when they read an announcement in the church bulletin. It said a speaker would discuss the liquor problem at a Sunday night meeting which "drinks and cookies will be served."

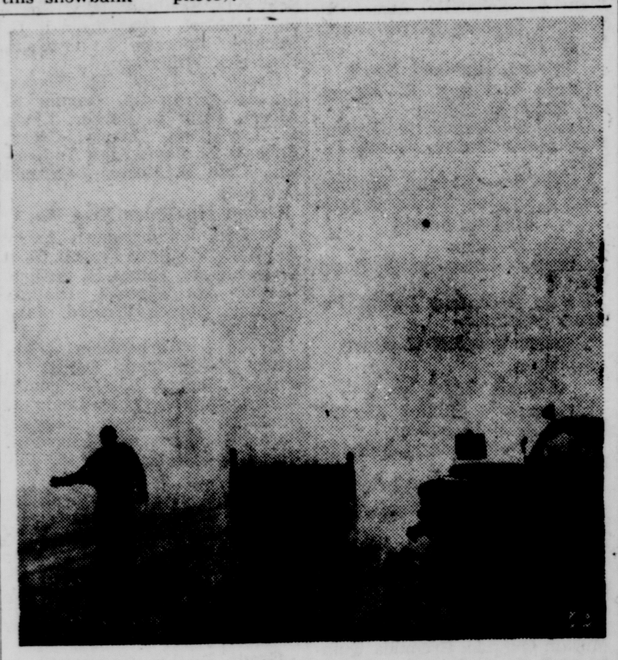
DUST DRIFT IN KANSAS — Wind gusts up to 50 miles per hour caused blowing dirt to drift in roadside ditches and produce this snowbank effect. This photo was taken west of Wichita, Kans., after the wind had subsided. (NEA Telephoto).

Votes Predicted

East Lansing, Mich. (AP)—Dr. Claude Bosworth, of Michigan State College, says he has devised a questionnaire that tells what a citizen thinks of his community—and what he'll buy for it. "We can help community leaders determine if an industrial development, new school, sewer bond issue or recreation program will be approved by the people," he says. The method has been reliable in surveys run in several Michigan cities, Bosworth says.

Quake Shatters Anew

Athens, Greece, April 21 (AP)—A disastrous new quake struck shattered Volos today, leveling many of the port city's remaining buildings. Five bodies were dug from the rubble and officials feared the death toll would run much higher. Police headquarters said witnesses telephoned from the stricken area that nearly every building in the city of 51,000 persons, about 100 miles northwest of Athens, had been partially or completely destroyed by the latest shock.



DRIVING AT OWN RISK IN DUST — Roy Norris, a Colorado highway department driver, stands near a warning sign on U. S. Highway 36-40 during the height of a dust storm April 19, ready to caution motorists about poor visibility in the plains area. The photo was made about 35 miles east of Denver. Sporadic winds whipped across eastern Colorado April 20. (AP Wirephoto).

Foreign Aid Request May Be Reduced

Washington, April 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower's foreign aid program ran into stormy waters in Congress today, with Sens. Byrd (D.-Va.) and Potter (R.-Mich) demanding elimination of direct economic assistance to U. S. allies.

Sen. Mansfield (D.-Mont.) proposed in a separate interview that the President's request for $3,530,000,000 in military and economic help for friendly nations be sliced below 3 billion dollion dollars.

THE VIGOR of objections and some obvious lack of enthusiasm by some administration supporters appeared to spell trouble for the program Eisenhower said would be directed primarily at Asia.

Chairmen George (D.-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Richards (D.-S. C). of the House Foreign Affairs Committee showed disinclination to tackle the problem immediately. Each said he would let the other House act on it first.

Strauss in England

London, April 21 (AP)—Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. atomic energy commission, arrived today for a week's tour of atomic installations and consultations with British government leaders. Strauss' visit—at the invitation of the British government—has been interpreted in some quarters as a sign the United States and Britain have reached a tentative agreement on the resumption of their wartime exchange of atomic information.

Bill Is Vetoed

Albany, April 21 (AP) — Gov. Harriman today announced he had vetoed a bill that would have compelled the New York Transit Authority to allow any employe "the right to select a representative of his own choosing" on grievances.

Queen 29 Today

Windsor, England, April 21 (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II celebrated her 29th birthday today with a brisk canter in Windsor Great Park. To take the ride in the park near Windsor Castle where she is staying with her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, and their two children, the Queen had to tear herself away from a big stack of greetings, letters and telegrams from many nations. In London cannon boomed salutes in Hyde Park and at the Tower of London. British warships all over the world dressed up in flags. The Queen's "official" birthday, a ceremonial occasion, will be observed on June 9.

Lease Expiration

Robert Herzog stated. It is still possible for small trucks to use the loading platform but large trailer-trucks must pass over the Herzog property, he said, and he indicated the entrance would remain closed pending negotiation of a new lease with the Ward interests.

SQUEEZY DOES IT — Cartoonists may not like it, but jam-smeared faces on small boys may be going out of style. Gregory Nash shows how easy it is to get the jelly on the bread instead of his cheeks. Jelly in metal tubes like this made a big hit at the National Packaging Show in Chicago.

Exam Dates Are

sergeants were recently appointed.

APPLICATION forms for the examinations may be obtained at the city clerk's office, city hall. The last filing date for examinations scheduled in May is April 30 at noon. The last day to file for the police examination is May 7 at noon.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy is due to retire in June. This will require eligibility lists for chief and deputy chief. The recent promotion of Robert F. Murphy to a police lieutenancy exhausted the eligibility list for that post.

Five County Men Inducted Wednesday

Local draft boards 18 (city) and 19 (county) inducted five men into the army April 20.

The city board's inductees were Dudley H. Smith, 316 Lucas avenue, and Denny Velcich, Pikeville, Ky. The three county inductees were William T. Meredith, RD No. 1, Wallkill, Charles C. Roach, RD 2, Box 29, Kingston, and Salvatore C. Crimi, New Paltz road, Highland.

Next inductions are scheduled for May 12.

The Queen's "official" birthday, a ceremonial occasion, will be observed on June 9.

Lease Expiration

Robert Herzog stated. It is still possible for small trucks to use the loading platform but large trailer-trucks must pass over the Herzog property, he said, and he indicated the entrance would remain closed pending negotiation of a new lease with the Ward interests.

SQUEEZY DOES IT — Cartoonists may not like it, but jam-smeared faces on small boys may be going out of style. Gregory Nash shows how easy it is to get the jelly on the bread instead of his cheeks. Jelly in metal tubes like this made a big hit at the National Packaging Show in Chicago.

sergeants were recently appointed.

APPLICATION forms for the examinations may be obtained at the city clerk's office, city hall. The last filing date for examinations scheduled in May is April 30 at noon. The last day to file for the police examination is May 7 at noon.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy is due to retire in June. This will require eligibility lists for chief and deputy chief. The recent promotion of Robert F. Murphy to a police lieutenancy exhausted the eligibility list for that post.

Vaccine Need Spurs Monkey Hunts in India

New Delhi, April 21 (AP)—Monkey hunting has become one of India's fastest growing enterprises, supplying raw material for polio vaccine.

Two weeks ago it looked as if monkey dealers, restrained by government action virtually banning simian exports, were heading toward bankruptcy after a relatively short period of prosperity. Today their future appears brighter than ever. The government has relaxed its restrictions, and the Salk vaccine which is made with monkey kidneys has been declared a success—assuring India's monkey trade a steady market. One monkey can yield up to 2,500 vaccinations.

IF ANYTHING worries monkey dealers, it is that the demand will spur competition and cut profits by forcing a steep rise in the price they pay hunters.

During 1953, when some 1,600 monkeys were exported, dealers here paid jungle hunters about $1.25 a monkey. Last year—the first year Salk vaccine was extensively tested — monkey exports rocketed to 6,400 and prices doubled. Now there are predictions the dealer may be forced to pay hunters $4, with the success of Salk vaccine expected to boost the annual demand 100,000 monkeys.

Dealers say they have not been able to pass all price increases to such consumers as the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, in the United States. Sources here are reticent to disclose what the Foundation and other dealers pay, but prices are believed to range from $10 to $13 plus air freight. The dealers must build cages for shipment, feed the monkeys and transport them from jungle to airport.

"I MUST BUY every monkey sent by the jungle hunters," said dealer Ted Patterson, "otherwise the hunters would ship the animals to some other dealer. But the Foundation wants them between 4 and 10 pounds and many I get range up to 30 or 40 pounds. The Foundation needs healthy ones and I try to sort out those which appear ill or have contagious colds."

Perhaps 10 to 15 per cent of monkeys delivered by hunters to dealers are freed as bad specimens.

Patterson, an English animal wholesaler, is India's biggest monkey merchant. He gave this picture of a jungle monkey hunt:

"The hunters work in teams of four. They put a net on the ground and camouflage it with dirt. One then calls the monkeys. Pretty soon the animals congregate in the area attracted by the calls and bait.

"AS SOON as there are a dozen or two monkeys standing on the net, two hidden hunters pull the ends together, trapping the monkeys.

"There always are many other monkeys around who become enraged and will attack the hunters—they even killed one a couple of months ago—and that is why the other two hunters are present. They fight the monkeys off with bamboo poles while their two companions haul the net."

MOST HUNTING is done by moslems in the remote jungles of North Lucknow in early morning or late evening.

Monkeys roam most Indian cities, doing millions of dollars of damage to crops annually. But these are generally poor specimens, most of them infected with tuberculosis and other diseases.

The captured monkeys are shipped by train and truck to New Delhi and Calcutta. There they are weighed and sorted, then loaded aboard air freighters a thousand at a time.

Many Indians whose Hindu religion considers monkeys sacred have always objected to the hunting. Reports that monkeys were badly treated during shipment led the Indian government to restrict exports.

Will the Indian monkey supply ever run out? Informed sources say not. India's monkey population is estimated variously between 8 and 55 millions.

Passes First Test

Hartford, Conn., April 21 (AP)—A constitutional amendment that would make possible a pay increase for Connecticut legislators has passed its first test. The House of Representatives, devoting its entire session to the matter, yesterday voted overwhelmingly in favor of the amendment, which would permit the Legislature itself to fix by law the salary of its members. At the present time, the $600 legislators collect for each two-year term is prescribed by the constitution. The salary can only be changed through the long process of amendment.

New York, April 21 (AP)—Jacqueline Church, involved in a custody fight between her divorced parents, is with her mother today after being missing since Monday from a Massachusetts' girls' school. Sixteen-year-old Jacqueline is the daughter of Mayor Stanley Church of New Rochelle, and Mrs. Eleanor Church Watson. Jacqueline and Martha Kellam, of Plainville, Conn., disappeared together from the Mary Burnham School for Girls, Northampfton, Mass. On Tuesday, Martha telephoned her home and met her father in Grand Central Terminal.

Vaccine Need Spurs Monkey Hunts in India

New Delhi, April 21 (AP)—Monkey hunting has become one of India's fastest growing enterprises, supplying raw material for polio vaccine.

Two weeks ago it looked as if monkey dealers, restrained by government action virtually banning simian exports, were heading toward bankruptcy after a relatively short period of prosperity. Today their future appears brighter than ever. The government has relaxed its restrictions, and the Salk vaccine which is made with monkey kidneys has been declared a success—assuring India's monkey trade a steady market. One monkey can yield up to 2,500 vaccinations.

IF ANYTHING worries monkey dealers, it is that the demand will spur competition and cut profits by forcing a steep rise in the price they pay hunters.

During 1953, when some 1,600 monkeys were exported, dealers here paid jungle hunters about $1.25 a monkey. Last year—the first year Salk vaccine was extensively tested—monkey exports rocketed to 6,400 and prices doubled. Now there are predictions the dealer may be forced to pay hunters $4, with the success of Salk vaccine expected to boost the annual demand 100,000 monkeys.

Dealers say they have not been able to pass all price increases to such consumers as the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, in the United States. Sources here are reticent to disclose what the Foundation and other dealers pay, but prices are believed to range from $10 to $13 plus air freight. The dealers must build cages for shipment, feed the monkeys and transport them from jungle to airport.

"I MUST BUY every monkey sent by the jungle hunters," said dealer Ted Patterson, "otherwise the hunters would ship the animals to some other dealer. But the Foundation wants them between 4 and 10 pounds and many I get range up to 30 or 40 pounds. The Foundation needs healthy ones and I try to sort out those which appear ill or have contagious colds."

Perhaps 10 to 15 per cent of monkeys delivered by hunters to dealers are freed as bad specimens.

Patterson, an English animal wholesaler, is India's biggest monkey merchant. He gave this picture of a jungle monkey hunt:

"The hunters work in teams of four. They put a net on the ground and camouflage it with dirt. One then calls the monkeys. Pretty soon the animals congregate in the area attracted by the calls and bait.

"AS SOON as there are a dozen or two monkeys standing on the net, two hidden hunters pull the ends together, trapping the monkeys.

"There always are many other monkeys around who become enraged and will attack the hunters—they even killed one a couple of months ago—and that is why the other two hunters are present. They fight the monkeys off with bamboo poles while their two companions haul the net."

MOST HUNTING is done by moslems in the remote jungles of North Lucknow in early morning or late evening.

Monkeys roam most Indian cities, doing millions of dollars of damage to crops annually. But these are generally poor specimens, most of them infected with tuberculosis and other diseases.

The captured monkeys are shipped by train and truck to New Delhi and Calcutta. There they are weighed and sorted, then loaded aboard air freighters a thousand at a time.

Many Indians whose Hindu religion considers monkeys sacred have always objected to the hunting. Reports that monkeys were badly treated during shipment led the Indian government to restrict exports.

Will the Indian monkey supply ever run out? Informed sources say not. India's monkey population is estimated variously between 8 and 55 millions.

Passes First Test

Hartford, Conn., April 21 (AP)—A constitutional amendment that would make possible a pay increase for Connecticut legislators has passed its first test. The House of Representatives, devoting its entire session to the matter, yesterday voted overwhelmingly in favor of the amendment, which would permit the Legislature itself to fix by law the salary of its members. At the present time, the $600 legislators collect for each two-year term is prescribed by the constitution. The salary can only be changed through the long process of amendment.

Her husband, magazine writer Mort Hunt, just sold an article called "The Decline and Fall of the American Father" . . . Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds have decided they'll honeymoon in Europe after their June wedding . . . Red Buttons has concluded that he'll take a year off from regular TV "to think."

The maitre d' at Whyte's whispered, "I've seen the stars come and go for years. I must have met hundreds of them. But this gal is the sweetest of them all. Real sweet."

This gal was Rhonda Fleming, in New York for her appearance on CBS-TV's "Stage Door," on the Best of Broadway series. And sweetness, she said, is something she's going to have to get over.

"Everybody says I'm sweet," she says, "just because I'm not temperamental and like to get along with everybody. Just this morning I was talking on the phone to somebody and I couldn't get rid of him and Diana Lynn said, 'Why don't you just hang up?'

"I'm going to have to learn how to be unsweet, I guess."

This was Rhonda's first live TV in anything other than an interview or saying-hello spot. She was excited about it. When she was a youngster, she wanted to be a stage actress, and live TV is the next best thing.

"I was one of those 'tormented' girls," she says. "I thought I would rather act than eat. Then I became a singer. At 15, I got to the finals of a big talent contest, but I lost out to a buxom blonde who sang 'The Man I Love' with gestures. Last I heard of her she was a riveter in an airplane factory."

From there she got into pictures, as a singer. But after one singing part they decided she was a female fatale — her tall, red-headed beauty is very much femme and she's been fatal in some of Hollywood's best (and worst) pictures ever since.

Greer Garson says she's through with the "understanding wife" parts. Henceforth, she'll either be a non-understanding wife, or an understanding non-wife.

Lucille Ball, whose show will be re-run over CBS-TV and called "The Lucy Show," chatted over the long-distance phone about her early days. She thinks one turning point in her career was when Florenz Ziegfeld fired her for being "too mousy."

"That discouraged me enough to send me packing towards home," she said. "And I developed more self-confidence and a year later came back to New York." This time she made it. From being mousy, she's now a big cheese.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

Housewives will find plenty of variety in the specials being offered in the meat departments of the nation's food stores this weekend.

Prime ribs of beef will be a feature in many markets. Another favorite will be pot roast. Round steak or roast also will be on sale in some areas.

PORK LOINS and pork chops will be the advertised specials of a good number of stores. Here and there, lower prices will be available on pork butts and smoked picnics. A few markets plan price cuts on legs of lamb and lamb shoulder roasts.

Frying chickens generally will be cheaper than a week ago. One chain is dropping prices two cents a pound in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, four cents in Los Angeles, six cents in Boston and Pittsburgh and 10 cents in Detroit. In some cases, roasting chickens will be lower, too.

Veal chops will show little price change from last weekend. A few markets will have veal shoulder on their list of specials.

EGGS WILL RISE in price in some areas while butter will be down two or three cents a pound in sections of the east and midwest.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture notes that onions are a good buy. It offers this advice to housewives:

"Flavor and quality of onions are not affected by size and color. Avoid onions with wet necks. The Bermuda and Spanish types are milder than the very hard, long-keeping onions."

ONIONS ARE ONLY one of the many vegetables on the good buy list this weekend, and you can thank warmer weather in growing areas for that. Produce specialists describe escarole, endive, new crop cabbage, spinach and summer squash as particularly good buys. They also recommend beets, pascal and golden heart celery, potatoes, medium and small peppers, Iceberg, Romaine and Big Boston lettuce, cucumbers, carrots, asparagus and broccoli. Cucumbers have come down sharply in price in recent weeks.

Corn supplies are rather light. Once again, it's hard to find good beans.

Strawberries are higher in eastern markets, but California is begining to ship them and produce buyers expect a considerable decline in price. Better buys in fruit continue to be oranges, grapefruit and apples.

Laborites Begin Drive to Unseat Eden on May 26

London, April 21 (AP)—Britain's divided Labor Party launched its uphill campaign last night to unseat Prime Minister Eden in the May 26 elections. The Laborites depicted the former foreign secretary as a novice in domestic affairs anxious to get the election over before he can get into difficulties on the home front.

Deputy Labor Party leader Herbert Morrison opened fire, criticizing Eden's call for a general election less than two months after he took over from retiring Sir Winston Churchill April 6.

"CAN IT BE," Morrison demanded in a speech before the National Conference of Labor Women at Harrogate, "that Eden feels rather shaky about his capacity? Or is it the case that the government foresees rough economic weather and higher living costs and wants to get the election over first?"

The election for a new House of Commons, mandatory every five years, could have been put off until October, 1956. It has been no secret that most Conservatives wanted the vote while the Socialists were weakened by their internal split between the followers of leftwing rebel Aneurin Bevan and those loyal to former Prime Minister Clement Attlee and the party's moderates.

IN A WEEKLY party newsletter yesterday, Eden called on Conservative workers to go all out in the campaign.

He declared that in the past three and a half years of Conservative government "the state of the country has been transformed." The nation's economic strength has mounted steadily, he said, and employment and production have reached record levels.

"Yet in spite of all this," Eden said, "much still remains to be done in the cause of peace and progress. We must have a further term of Conservative government."

G.L.F. Membership Feed Discount

$5.00 per ton

on members' purchases of formula feeds manufactured by Cooperative G.L.F. Exchange, Inc.

C. N. SILCOX

To Members of Cooperative G.L.F. Exchange, Inc.

Last summer I announced to the stockholders of Cooperative G.L.F. Exchange, Inc. the close pricing policy which I had recommended and the Board of Directors approved.

We are now at a point in our operations where it appears that earnings in the feed division for the present fiscal year will be adequate for normal needs. Earnings beyond this point would not be in keeping with the close pricing policy.

At the Board of Directors meeting on April 4, the hard-pressed position of farmers was discussed. The Board felt that since farmer-members built this cooperative, members are the ones who should benefit from any steps G.L.F. could make to alleviate the situation. Therefore, the Board took action approving a membership feed discount program.

Effective April 18 for several weeks until further notice, each member of Cooperative G.L.F. Exchange, Inc. will be eligible to receive a membership feed discount. This membership discount of $5.00 per ton will be given on the purchases made by members during the above period for all formula dairy, poultry, stock feeds and formula supplements manufactured by the Mills Division of Cooperative G.L.F. Exchange, Inc. A member is a farmer who owns one or more shares of common stock in Cooperative G.L.F. Exchange, Inc.

Top Men in Various Business Fields Optimistic About Future

Upsurge Is Seen Lasting During Entire '55 Span

New York, April 21 (AP)—The prosperity chorus rises higher today. Booming business is shown in the profit statements of corporations in many fields. Predictions of continuing good times are sounded at stockholders' annual meetings.

Here is just one day's quota. Top men talking optimism head firms in these varied lines: Oil, steel, autos, rubber, glass, chemicals, copper, aluminum, utilities, entertainment, farm machinery, and electronics.

General electric's president, Ralph J. Cordiner, tells stockholders chances are good that business will continue its upsurge throughout the year.

L. L. COLBERT, Chrysler president, tells stockholders their auto company has a sizable backlog of orders from dealers, making the future look rosy. Similar statements have come from officials of Ford and General Motors.

Record first quarter earnings for U. S. Rubber are reported. Its president, H. E. Humphreys, Jr., says "sales and profits for the year could come up to the best we've ever had."

John L. Collyer, chairman of B. F. Goodrich, reports that his rubber company's sales are running 17 per cent ahead of last year and "the look ahead is promising."

Union Carbide & Carbon, having chalked up a record first quarter, its president, Morse G. Dial, assures stockholders he expects sales for the entire year to top the record year of 1953.

AMERICAN Cyanamid also reports record sales so far this year and profits well above a year ago.

In the once ailing farm equipment industry, caterpillar tractor reports good gains in sales and earnings this year.

Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co.'s chairman, John D. Biggers, tells stockholders sales and profits are at a record high. Prospects for the year look good, paced by the "unprecedented residential and school construction."

PROFITS for the year should be well above last year, Chairman Louis S. Cates tells stockholders of Phelps Dodge. Profit gains are based on "greater sales, as well as higher prices for copper."

Aluminum production is also setting records, the Aluminum Assn. reports, with March topping any month in history.

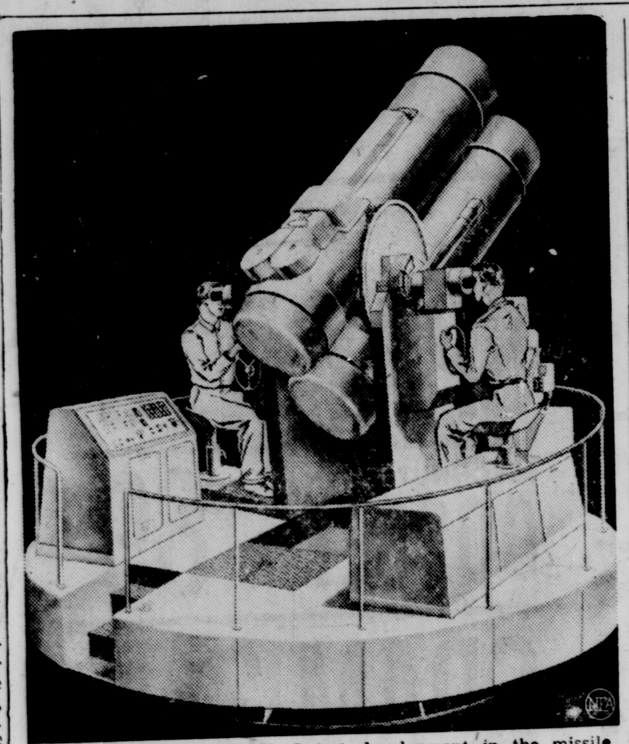
Robert G. Dunlop, president of Sun Oil, sees 1955 profits rising 5 to 10 per cent above last year. He tells stockholders first quarter figures encourage that belief.

LION OIL CO. had its best three months in history, President T. M. Martin says. First quarter profits were 51 per cent higher than a year ago.

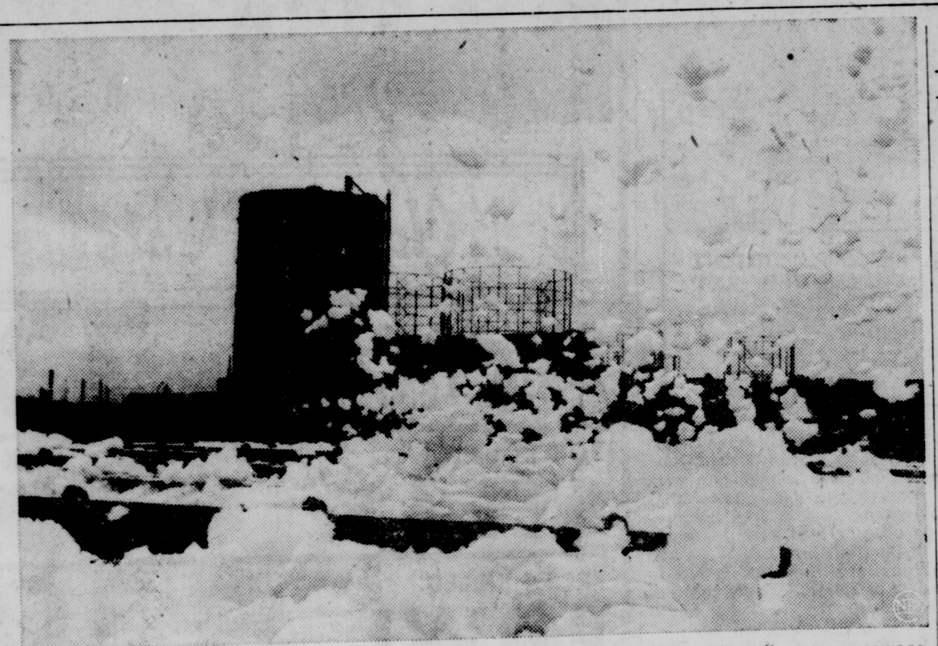
Steel's booming production pace is shown by a report from Buffalo. Edmund F. Martin, general manager of Bethlehem Steel's Lackawanna plant, says the average force there during March was higher than in steel's boom year of 1953.

UTILITIES are sharing in the prosperity. Lyle McDonald, chairman of Public Service Electric and Gas, tells shareholders that revenues and profits so far this year have topped the previous year. All indications, he says, point to continued improvement in business.

Leroy A. Peterson, president of Otis Elevator, tells his shareholders that prospects for 1956 are rosy, too. He bases this on expectation that sales this year will top last year's by 10 per cent. Because of the time lag between sales and installation of large elevators this could make 1956 an even better year than 1955.



BULLETLESS CANNON—Latest development in the missile program is a twin telescope and camera which looks like a howitzer. It is mounted on a movable turret which allows sighting and following the missile in its flight. It is called ROTI, recording optical tracking instrument. Top telescope can spot a golf ball eight miles away under relatively poor light conditions.



BUBBLING OVER—Philadelphians were treated to a strange bubble "dance" near a sewage disposal unit. Too much detergent got into the unit and flooded the area with suds. No damage was reported.

Ban Crime Books

Amsterdam, April 20 (AP)—The sale of horror, sex and crime "comic books" to persons under 17 in this city is now outlawed. The Common Council last night passed an ordinance making such sale a misdemeanor and setting a maximum penalty of a $100 fine and imprisonment for 90 days.

Senate Passes Bill On Feeder Air Lines

Washington, April 21 (AP)—The Senate by voice vote yesterday passed a bill authorizing the Civil Aeronautics Board to grant permanent operating certificates to 14 feeder air lines.

The measure was returned to the House which had passed a different version. Sponsors said, however, that they expected little controversy over the changes.

Those affected include Allegheny Airlines and Mohawk Airlines.

The 14 lines now operate on temporary certificates, running two or three years, to provide local and link-up service feeding traffic and air mail to major airlines.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D.-Okla.) told the Senate he believed approval of the bill would result in economies and lead toward future reduction of federal subsidies to the domestic air lines. The subsidies now run $26,448,000 a year.

James Buchanan was the only bachelor President of the United States.

CONFIRMING AN INVITATION

A letter tells me: "Two weeks ago while at a bridge party at a friend's house, I met an acquaintance whom I hadn't seen for a long time and asked if she would dine with me the following week. I said nothing further and took it for granted that she would come. However, she never turned up and I haven't heard from her since. A friend of mine tells me that I should have sent her a reminder card a day or so before the dinner. Will you please tell me what a reminder card is and when it is used. Also, was I at fault for not confirming the invitation."

If the day and hour of your dinner had been definitely set, your friend should have come with no further word from you. Because people do sometimes forget engagements they make when they are away from home and cannot write them down immediately, many hostesses follow such an invitation by sending a reminder card, which may be a visiting card with "To remind you, you are dining with me on Wednesday, the 10th at 7:30." Others telephone the day before (or morning of) the dinner.

Presenting the Bride With Money

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's cousin is to be married soon and we intend to give her money for a wedding present. Several other relatives are giving her money, too, which they intend to give her at the reception. Is this proper? I have seen guests at other weddings do this but it never seemed right to me. I would very much like your opinion on the correct way of presenting this to her.

Answer—Correctly, you send a check to the bride soon after the wedding invitations have been sent out. To hand her money at the reception would be unthinkable except with especial excuse (such as absence from home until the wedding day).

Position of Spoon

Dear Mrs. Post: When one is served ice cream, pudding, etc., on a dessert dish, with a somewhat larger plate underneath it, should the spoon be left in the dish or on the plate when one is finished eating?

Answer: It is left in the dish unless the dish is so small that there is danger of the spoon falling off. In this case it should be put on the plate underneath.

Is it proper to break crackers into soup? How should baked potatoes be eaten? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Answers to these questions are included in leaflet E-16. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Typhoon for Formosa

Manila, April 21 (AP)—A preseasonal typhoon with winds up to 75 miles per hour is grinding slowly across the Philippine Sea toward Formosa. Typhoon Anita, jumping the season with ordinarily begins in late May or early June, was located 670 miles east of Luzon today, moving northwest at six miles per hour, the Manila Weather Bureau reported.

Against New Benefits

Trenton, N. J., April 21 (AP)—The New Jersey State AFL opposes a CIO-supported plan to pay added unemployment compensation benefits to workers with dependents. Labor union representatives presented the differing views yesterday at a hearing of the State Senate's Labor and Industrial Relations Committee.

Express Head Dies

San Francisco, April 21 (AP)—Malachy Leo Tynan, of New York, general purchasing agent for the Railway Express Co., died at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel here yesterday. He was 64. Physicians announced that Tynan, who came to the west coast on business, had died of natural causes. Associates said that the widow, four daughters and a son survive at the family home at 76-10 34th avenue, Jackson Heights, New York. The body will be returned to New York today. Tynan had been with the Railway Express Co. 45 years. For the past quarter of a century he had been in charge of purchasing.

What Is Cancer?

Cancer is defined as an "uncontrolled growth of cells." If detected early, this can be cut out by surgery or destroyed by radiation in most cases, the American Cancer Society says.

Avery, Wolfson Control Vote Scheduled Friday

Chicago, April 21 (AP)—The eyes of American business will be focused tomorrow on a structure that looks like an old-world mosque.

It's the Medinah Temple at 600 N. Wabash avenue. The four-story brick building is distinguished from its north side neighbors by two plump, round domes.

The theatre-type temple was built by the Masonic fraternity. It has been used for such occidental activities as circuses and conventions.

Tomorrow it will house the annual meeting of Montgomery Ward & Co. stockholders. Their chief business will be to decide whether the 721 million dollar firm will remain under the control of Sewell L. Avery or shift to the command of Louis E. Wolfson.

THE BATTLE of these Titans of industry will be witnessed by hundreds. There are seats for 4,500 on the main floor and in the balcony. There will be accommodations for an additional 2,000 in the basement. The shareholders can listen — or speak—via a public address system, equipped with mobile microphones.

Chairman Avery and other Ward officers and top executives —18 or 20, in all—will occupy the stage.

Other members of the management team and its candidates for places as directors will be seated on the left side of the main floor. Wolfson and the other members of his squad, including their nominees for the directorate, will be seated on the right side of the main floor.

UNDER THE agenda, as it now stands, the 81-year-old Avery will open the meeting at 11:30 a. m. EST.

Each side will place in nomination it's nine-member slate of candidates for director positions.

Polls will be opened in the rear of the house. Most of the 68,000 stockholders have mailed in their proxies. But those who want to vote in person or cast a ballot that will supersede a previously mailed proxy will walk to a parlor containing eight voting tables.

The next item on the program is "Questions and Discussions."

BUT THE place on the agenda of this item already has drawn a protest from Wolfson.

He has demanded "free and open discussion before the votes are cast."

John Barr, Ward vice president and secretary, rejoined:

"There will be a full opportunity for asking any questions. No stockholder will be forced to vote before he's ready to vote."

At the end of the session, the meeting will be adjourned—probably for three weeks. Barr estimated it would take that long to check and count the ballots.

The counting will be done at an office in Ward headquarters in Chicago. Representatives of both sides will watch the proceedings.

David W. Arnold, chaplain.

The next meeting of the club will be held Thursday, April 28, at SRS Hall in Cottekill. The speaker will be Colonel Brocklehurst, commanding officer 47th Air Defense Group, stationed at Stewart Field. The members of Kerhonkson Lions Club will be guests at this meeting.

Top Men in Various Business Fields Optimistic About Future

Upsurge Is Seen Lasting During Entire '55 Span

New York, April 21 (AP)—The prosperity chorus rises higher today. Booming business is shown in the profit statements of corporations in many fields. Predictions of continuing good times are sounded at stockholders' annual meetings.

Here is just one day's quota. Top men talking optimism head firms in these varied lines: Oil, steel, autos, rubber, glass, chemicals, copper, aluminum, utilities, entertainment, farm machinery, and electronics.

General electric's president, Ralph J. Cordiner, tells stockholders chances are good that business will continue its upsurge throughout the year.

L. L. COLBERT, Chrysler president, tells stockholders their auto company has a sizable backlog of orders from dealers, making the future look rosy. Similar statements have come from officials of Ford and General Motors.

Record first quarter earnings for U. S. Rubber are reported. Its president, H. E. Humphreys, Jr., says "sales and profits for the year could come up to the best we've ever had."

John L. Collyer, chairman of B. F. Goodrich, reports that his rubber company's sales are running 17 per cent ahead of last year and "the look ahead is promising."

Union Carbide & Carbon, having chalked up a record first quarter, its president, Morse G. Dial, assures stockholders he expects sales for the entire year to top the record year of 1953.

AMERICAN Cyanamid also reports record sales so far this year and profits well above a year ago.

In the once ailing farm equipment industry, caterpillar tractor reports good gains in sales and earnings this year.

Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co.'s chairman, John D. Biggers, tells stockholders sales and profits are at a record high. Prospects for the year look good, paced by the "unprecedented residential and school construction."

PROFITS for the year should be well above last year, Chairman Louis S. Cates tells stockholders of Phelps Dodge. Profit gains are based on "greater sales, as well as higher prices for copper."

Aluminum production is also setting records, the Aluminum Assn. reports, with March topping any month in history.

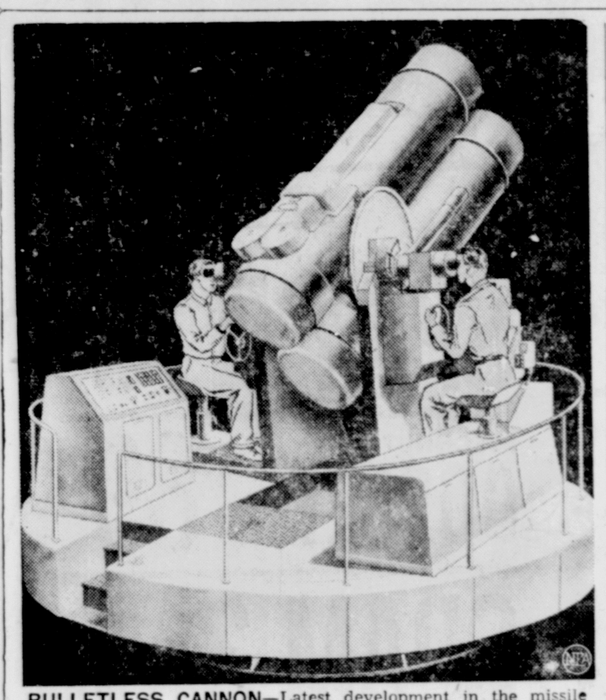
Robert G. Dunlop, president of Sun Oil, sees 1955 profits rising 5 to 10 per cent above last year. He tells stockholders first quarter figures encourage that belief.

LION OIL CO. had its best three months in history, President T. M. Martin says. First quarter profits were 51 per cent higher than a year ago.

Steel's booming production pace is shown by a report from Buffalo. Edmund F. Martin, general manager of Bethlehem Steel's Lackawanna plant, says the average force there during March was higher than in steel's boom year of 1953.

UTILITIES are sharing in the prosperity. Lyle McDonald, chairman of Public Service Electric and Gas, tells shareholders that revenues and profits so far this year have topped the previous year. All indications, he says, point to continued improvement in business.

Leroy A. Peterson, president of Otis Elevator, tells his shareholders that prospects for 1956 are rosy, too. He bases this on expectation that sales this year will top last year's by 10 per cent. Because of the time lag between sales and installation of large elevators this could make 1956 an even better year than 1955.



BULLETLESS CANNON—Latest development in the missile program is a twin telescope and camera which looks like a howitzer. It is mounted on a movable turret which allows sighting and following the missile in its flight. It is called ROTI, recording optical tracking instrument. Top telescope can spot a golf ball eight miles away under relatively poor light conditions.

BUBBLING OVER—Philadelphians were treated to a strange bubble "dance" near a sewage disposal unit. Too much detergent got into the unit and flooded the area with suds. No damage was reported.

Ban Crime Books

Amsterdam, April 20 (AP)—The sale of horror, sex and crime "comic books" to persons under 17 in this city is now outlawed. The Common Council last night passed an ordinance making such sale a misdemeanor and setting a maximum penalty of a $100 fine and imprisonment for 90 days.

Senate Passes Bill On Feeder Air Lines

Washington, April 21 (AP)—The Senate by voice vote yesterday passed a bill authorizing the Civil Aeronautics Board to grant permanent operating certificates to 14 feeder air lines.

The measure was returned to the House which had passed a different version. Sponsors said, however, that they expected little controversy over the changes.

Those affected include Allegheny Airlines and Mohawk Airlines.

The 14 lines now operate on temporary certificates, running two or three years, to provide local and link-up service feeding traffic and air mail to major airlines.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D.-Okla.) told the Senate he believed approval of the bill would result in economies and lead toward future reduction of federal subsidies to the domestic air lines. The subsidies now run $26,448,000 a year.

James Buchanan was the only bachelor President of the United States.

CONFIRMING AN INVITATION

A letter tells me: "Two weeks ago while at a bridge party at a friend's house, I met an acquaintance whom I hadn't seen for a long time and asked if she would dine with me the following week. I said nothing further and took it for granted that she would come. However, she never turned up and I haven't heard from her since. A friend of mine tells me that I should have sent her a reminder card a day or so before the dinner. Will you please tell me what a reminder card is and when it is used. Also, was I at fault for not confirming the invitation."

If the day and hour of your dinner had been definitely set, your friend should have come with no further word from you. Because people do sometimes forget engagements they make when they are away from home and cannot write them down immediately, many hostesses follow such an invitation by sending a reminder card, which may be a visiting card with "To remind you, you are dining with me on Wednesday, the 10th at 7:30." Others telephone the day before (or morning of) the dinner.

Presenting the Bride With Money

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's cousin is to be married soon and we intend to give her money for a wedding present. Several other relatives are giving her money, too, which they intend to give her at the reception. Is this proper? I have seen guests at other weddings do this but it never seemed right to me. I would very much like your opinion on the correct way of presenting this to her.

Answer—Correctly, you send a check to the bride soon after the wedding invitations have been sent out. To hand her money at the reception would be unthinkable except with especial excuse (such as absence from home until the wedding day).

Position of Spoon

Dear Mrs. Post: When one is served ice cream, pudding, etc., on a dessert dish, with a somewhat larger plate underneath it, should the spoon be left in the dish or on the plate when one is finished eating?

Answer: It is left in the dish unless the dish is so small that there is danger of the spoon falling off. In this case it should be put on the plate underneath.

Is it proper to break crackers into soup? How should baked potatoes be eaten? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Answers to these questions are included in leaflet E-16. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Typhoon for Formosa

Manila, April 21 (AP)—A preseasonal typhoon with winds up to 75 miles per hour is grinding slowly across the Philippine Sea toward Formosa. Typhoon Anita, jumping the season with ordinarily begins in late May or early June, was located 670 miles east of Luzon today, moving northwest at six miles per hour, the Manila Weather Bureau reported.

Against New Benefits

Trenton, N. J., April 21 (AP)—The New Jersey State AFL opposes a CIO-supported plan to pay added unemployment compensation benefits to workers with dependents. Labor union representatives presented the differing views yesterday at a hearing of the State Senate's Labor and Industrial Relations Committee.

Express Head Dies

San Francisco, April 21 (AP)—Malachy Leo Tynan, of New York, general purchasing agent for the Railway Express Co., died at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel here yesterday. He was 64. Physicians announced that Tynan, who came to the west coast on business, had died of natural causes. Associates said that the widow, four daughters and a son survive at the family home at 76-10 34th avenue, Jackson Heights, New York. The body will be returned to New York today. Tynan had been with the Railway Express Co. 45 years. For the past quarter of a century he had been in charge of purchasing.

What Is Cancer?

Cancer is defined as an "uncontrolled growth of cells." If detected early, this can be cut out by surgery or destroyed by radiation in most cases, the American Cancer Society says.

Avery, Wolfson Control Vote Scheduled Friday

Chicago, April 21 (AP)—The eyes of American business will be focused tomorrow on a structure that looks like an old-world mosque.

It's the Medinah Temple at 600 N. Wabash avenue. The four-story brick building is distinguished from its north side neighbors by two plump, round domes.

The theatre-type temple was built by the Masonic fraternity. It has been used for such occidental activities as circuses and conventions.

The next item on the program is "Questions and Discussions."

BUT THE place on the agenda of this item already has drawn a protest from Wolfson.

He has demanded "free and open discussion before the votes are cast."

John Barr, Ward vice president and secretary, rejoined:

"There will be a full opportunity for asking any questions. No stockholder will be forced to vote before he's ready to vote."

At the end of the session, the meeting will be adjourned—probably for three weeks. Barr estimated it would take that long to check and count the ballots.

The counting will be done at an office in Ward headquarters in Chicago. Representatives of both sides will watch the proceedings.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Reporters Honored

Washington, April 20 (AP)—For their part in exposing the 1954 housing abuses, Richard Hyer and William P. Announcement of this and 13 other awards for outstanding performances in the press, radio and television was made by Alden C. Waite of Los Angeles, president of the National Professional Journalism Fraternity, at an executive council meeting. Bronze medallions and plaques will be presented to the winners at the May 17 dinner of the New York Professional Chapter.

Not Easy to Pick Right Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

It isn't easy to pick the best contract for North and South in today's hand. Five diamonds would run into quite a bit of trouble if East opened a spade or a trump. The defenders would lead trumps as soon as possible, and declarer would never get to the dummy.

Three no-trump may look foolish, with a void in the North hand, but it's a fairly reasonable contract. Normal defense should give declarer little trouble.

West judged from the bidding that South had strength in hearts and spades, and he decided not to lead either of these suits. Hoping to mislead declarer, West opened the deuce of clubs.

South finessed dummy's ten of clubs, content to lose the trick and to get the expected heart return up to dummy's void. East didn't, however, oblige him with a heart return. East knew that his partner had made a desperation opening lead, and this made it seem probable that West had nothing worth speaking of in hearts or spades. East therefore decided to try to keep South from ever gaining the lead.

In pursuance of this aim, East returned a low diamond. Dummy had to win, and declarer ran his six diamond tricks for lack of anything better to do. The defenders discarded hearts without much trouble.

South next took the ace of spades and led another spade toward his hand. West won with the jack of spades and casually returned another low club.

Declarer now had to guess whether to play the king or the nine, and he happened to guess wrong. When dummy finessed the nine, East won with the queen of clubs and returned a club. The defenders thus took three clubs and two spades, defeating the game contract.

Light Fingered

Fredericksburg, Va. (AP)—Detective Hugh T. Rose spotted a janitor suspected of dipping into the petty cash box of an insurance firm after closing hours when he dusted the bills in the box with an invisible fluorescent chemical and took the serial number of the bills. When the next shortage was discovered the janitor was invited down to headquarters. He held his hands under an ultra-violet light. And his guilt glowed. The clincher was a couple of marked bills found in his pocket.

How Not to Retire

Miami, Fla. (AP)—If you're planning to retire to South Florida and let one of those pretty avocado or lime orchards support you, a veteran newspaperman and amateur truck farmer advises: "Don't." Steve Trumbull, a Miami Herald reporter, told his readers that he bought 30 acres of land with that idea 21 years ago. He's been "working at the newspaper business ever since to support the place," he said. His avocado and lime grove returned $834.81 last year, he said, but $500 of that was from rent on 10 acres of the land. "There have been years of some profits," he said, "but never enough that would have made the place a living."

A STOCKHOLDER TAKES THE FLOOR—Laurie Ann Mills, 18-month-old daughter of Mrs. B. C. Mills, of Schenectady, N. Y., seats herself at her mother's feet during the Apr. 19 meeting of more than 3,000 General Electric Co. stockholders in Schenectady. She owns 15 shares. Laurie Ann was one of the babies who received 5 shares of the company's stock when she was born Oct. 15, 1953, the 75th anniversary of GE. Every child born to a GE employe on that day received 5 shares of stock. It since has been split on a 3 for 1 basis. (AP Wirephoto).

THIS IS NO LAUGHING MATTER — If you don't recognize him without his famous makeup, this is Emmett Kelly, the 56-year-old, internationally-known, sad-faced clown with Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus. With him at a reception in New York, April 20, is his bride-to-be, Elveria Gebhardt, 22, German acrobat, whom he'll marry April 21 in Edgewater, N. J. Behind them is a portrait of Kelly in his familiar costume. The couple currently are appearing with the circus. (AP Wirephoto).

Decision Is Accepted

Syracuse, April 21 (AP)—The board of directors of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association today accepted Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson's decision on New York milk prices "with extreme reluctance." The board, in a statement released by Ernest C. Strobeck, president, characterized Benson's decision as meager, inadequate and bearing no relation to the needs of farmers.

Hearing Is Expected

Sussex, N. J., April 21 (AP)—A public hearing is expected in the near future to consider federal milk market controls for New Jersey, state officials predict. Gov. Robert B. Meyner, and Floyd Hoffman, director of the State Office of Milk Industry, last night told a group of dairymen there is every indication U. S. Secy. of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson will set a hearing date soon.

Exempts Liability

Hartford, Conn., April 21 (AP)—Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff today signed into law a bill which exempts radio and television stations in Connecticut from liability for defamatory statements broadcast over their facilities by non-employes and without the knowledge of the station owners.

Look Out for Bicycles!

Williamsport, Pa. (AP)—Police said 12-year-old-old Wilson Battorf crashed into the side of a moving auto while riding his bicycle. Wilson was not injured and his bike was not damaged. Damage to Mark P. Galletti's car cost $25 to repair.

National Guard

were manned at downtown posts in many cities.

No accident marred the operation, headquarters reported.

THE AIR GUARD put 55 planes into the air. At White Plains, two F-94 Starfire jets were airborne 2½ minutes after a signal to scramble, given at 7:40 p. m. The squadron had been standing by ready for action since 6:30.

Most of the alerting was done by telephone. Radio and television stations helped. At Grand Central station in New York city, the public address system passed the word.

AT LEAST ONE airman, an amateur radio operator, received the notice in his radio-equipped automobile.

Brig. Gen. Gerard E. Kelley, chief of staff, said in New York city that four army units reported 100 per cent attendance. He said eight were over 90 per cent and the lowest was 85.5.

Hausauer said the 42nd (Rainbow) Infantry Division in the New York city area set the pace for larger units with a 94 per cent turnout in the first three hours.

THE 101ST Armored Cavalry, with units upstate and in the metropolitan area, led units of regimental size with a 96 per cent turnout in the first two hours.

At Niagara Falls, the 136th Squadron sent its eight Starfire all-weather fighters into the air with ceiling and visibility zero within an hour after the alert.

At LaGuardia Field, a battery of the 245th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion tracked an "enemy" plane and theoretically downed it. The target craft was a National Guard DC-6.

Some New York Guardsmen out of the state reported to other armories. Maj. John Nietman of Seaford, L. I., answered the call at Tallahassee, Fla. Sgt. Nat Steen of New York city checked in at Chicago.

WESTCHESTER County Airport at White Plains, the control center for the eastern seaboard operations of the Air National Guard, sent up a B-25 bomber to carry out a "calibration flight," starting from White Plains to Boston, then to Albany, and back to White Plains. It acted as a target for scrambling operations in that area.

Most of the White Plains operations are manned at all times. The alert brought additional personnel.

At Syracuse, the noise of the scrambles of the 138th Squadron drowned out recruiting talks the air force had planned at Hancock Field for parents.

IN YONKERS, the police jumped into the act and made certain 1st Lt. Harold Evans showed up. A salesman, Evans was out on business. He is regimental motor officer of the 107th Regimental Combat Team.

The police were notified after the alert was relayed to his home. He was halted twice by police cars and advised to head for his unit.

At Buffalo, David Schoepf was driving in his radio-equipped automobile when his unit the 107th Fighter Interceptor Wing, was alerted.

His home was notified by telephone. His mother telephoned another ham radio operator. The friend called Schoepf's girl friend by shortwave radio. She radioed Schoepf in his car.

As he headed for his base at Niagara Falls, lightning struck his antenna, burning out the radio.

She's Her Own Grandma

Greenville, Tenn. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Betty Louise Willis became her own grandmother recently—with her parents' consent. She married Ed Earley who gave his age as "over 50." The girl's father and mother, Paul Willis and the former Mrs. Paul Willis, were divorced and then married, respectively, a a daughter and a son of Earley. So the bride became the mother-in-law of both her parents and, technically, her own grandmother. In accordance with Tennessee law, the child's parents signed the license which made possible her marriage to Earley.

Remedy for Eating

Bozeman, Mont. (AP) — Now there's a vaccination to save lambs and their mothers from over-eating, a problem that has long worried stockmen. Dr. E. A. Tunnicliff, the head of the Montana Veterinary Research Laboratory, explains it this way: When lambs eat too much of lush growth in spring pastures, or get too much milk, a form of enterotoxemia develops. This is called over-eating disease; or a pulpy kidney disease, or milk colic. Tunnicliff says ewes may be vaccinated several weeks before lambing, or the lambs can be given an antitoxin or serum. He says that this preventive vaccination along with good management will eliminate the hazard of over-eating, or getting too much milk.

Wise advertisers know that the newspaper is basic — no matter what the virtues of other media are.

They know that almost every person in every community reads a newspaper sometime during each day.

They also know that people have a strong allegiance to their newspapers, believe in newspapers, and shop from newspapers.

Thus, whatever advertising schedule they build, they make newspapers their solid foundation.

No wonder advertisers placed more money in newspapers last year than they did in television, radio, magazines and outdoor — combined!

DuplicateMember Policy Clarified In C of C Letter

Important policies concerning duplicate memberships in the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce were clarified today in a letter mailed by President J. Ellis Briggs to all firms and individuals subscribing for more than one membership.

Duplicate memberships is the method by which any firm or individual may increase their support of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. During the fiscal year ending April 30, 1955, fifty firms subscribed for more than one membership at $25 each or a total of 162 memberships.

IN THE PAST there has been some uncertainty as to the exact procedure or policy followed in connection with duplicate memberships. This was clarified at a recent meeting of the board of directors.

Any firm, individual or organization may subscribe for as many duplicate memberships as desired and assign such memberships to individuals at will. All such assigned memberships, regardless of the number, will carry the full privileges of membership. All will be included on mailing lists, appear on the list of active members eligible to be nominated for the office of director and participate in all activities. The by-laws, however, limit voting power to a maximum of four votes to one firm, regardless of the number of memberships subscribed. This relates principally to the nomination and election of directors in the fall. In the future the two, three or four ballots, whichever applies, will be sent to the head of the firm or person designated to receive them on the membership renewal or membership application blank.

BRIGGS SAID today, in making this announcement, that he believed the letter would clarify the uncertainties which existed in the relation to the exact status of assigned memberships. "Some firms assigned only four memberships although more memberships were subscribed for, and some misunderstanding also existed regarding the exercise of voting power." Briggs concluded, "the management of any firm need not assign all of the memberships subscribed for but may do so if they so desire."

It was pointed out that these policies do not apply to the classified membership directory published as a membership service. However, any member is entitled to as many listings in the directory as the number of memberships subscribed. Listings are limited to one for each membership. The member must select the heading or headings under which they find it most advantageous to be listed.

This relates principally to the nomination and election of directors in the fall. In the future the two, three or four ballots, whichever applies, will be sent to the head of the firm or person designated to receive them on the membership renewal or membership application blank.

BRIGGS SAID today, in making this announcement, that he believed the letter would clarify the uncertainties which existed in the relation to the exact status of assigned memberships. "Some firms assigned only four memberships although more memberships were subscribed for, and some misunderstanding also existed regarding the exercise of voting power." Briggs concluded, "the management of any firm need not assign all of the memberships subscribed for but may do so if they so desire."

It was pointed out that these policies do not apply to the classified membership directory published as a membership service. However, any member is entitled to as many listings in the directory as the number of memberships subscribed. Listings are limited to one for each membership. The member must select the heading or headings under which they find it most advantageous to be listed.

REMOVING HOUSES—The Poughkeepsie Wrecking Company has begun demolition of nine houses included in the first contract let by the Kingston Housing Authority for the clearance of a block in the downtown area.

The houses are located in the block bounded by Ann, Meadow, East Pierpont and Chambers streets. Contracts for demolition of additional houses will be let as title is cleared.

Included in the first contract is the building at 72 Ann street, a two-story and attic frame building, which because of its sound construction had previously been offered for sale to anyone who would move it. Under terms of the contract with the Poughkeepsie Wrecking Company, the wrecker was granted an option to either move or demolish that building, and has offered it again for sale provided the purchaser remove or demolish it. The real estate firm of Krom and Canavan has been named to handle the offering.

Tooth Decay Cut 60 Per Cent in Fluoride Test

Newburgh, April 21 (AP) — A 60 per cent reduction in decayed, missing or filled teeth among Newburgh school children, as compared with those in the control city of Kingston, was reported today on the 10th anniversary of a fluoridation study.

THIS RESULT was reported by Dr. David B. Ast, director of the State Health Department's Bureau of Dental Health, at a luncheon attended by state and city officials, including Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner.

Supplementary reports by other state officials indicated that, aside from the reduction of dental troubles, there were no noticeable effects on the systems of the children participating in the test.

NEWBURGH is said to be the first city in the country to set up such an elaborate program to test the effects of water fluoridation in reducing dental decay. Fluorides were added to Newburgh's drinking water to bring the concentration to one part of fluoride to every million parts of water. No fluorides were added to the water in nearby Kingston, which was selected as a control city.

Before the luncheon the officials visited one of the Newburgh schools to observe dental conditions among the children.

Veto Overhangs Vote

Washington, April 21 (AP)—The likelihood of a presidential veto today overhung a House vote to boost the pay of the nation's 500,000 postal workers an average of 8.2 per cent. President Eisenhower last year refused to sign a 7 per cent postal pay increase voted by Congress on the ground it was not accompanied by a revenue-raising hike in postal rates. His veto came after Congress adjourned and there was no opportunity to vote on overriding it. The House yesterday followed suit and approved an 8.2 per cent increase which would cost some 171 million dollars a year. The Senate bill is estimated to cost 220 millions.

Tooth Decay Cut 60 Per Cent in Fluoride Test

Newburgh, April 21 (AP) — A 60 per cent reduction in decayed, missing or filled teeth among Newburgh school children, as compared with those in the control city of Kingston, was reported today on the 10th anniversary of a fluoridation study.

THIS RESULT was reported by Dr. David B. Ast, director of the State Health Department's Bureau of Dental Health, at a luncheon attended by state and city officials, including Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner.

Supplementary reports by other state officials indicated that, aside from the reduction of dental troubles, there were no noticeable effects on the systems of the children participating in the test.

NEWBURGH is said to be the first city in the country to set up such an elaborate program to test the effects of water fluoridation in reducing dental decay. Fluorides were added to Newburgh's drinking water to bring the concentration to one part of fluoride to every million parts of water. No fluorides were added to the water in nearby Kingston, which was selected as a control city.

Before the luncheon the officials visited one of the Newburgh schools to observe dental conditions among the children.

Girl, 6, Injured In Local Mishap

A six-year-old girl was injured in one of two city traffic mishaps reported last night.

Donna Marie MacDonald, 6, of 5 West Strand, suffered injuries of the legs and arms in an accident reported at 5:40 p. m., at Hasbrouck avenue and East Strand.

Osgood Haff, of Trumansburg, reported at police headquarters that he was driving a station wagon south on Hasbrouck avenue when the child "ran from behind a car making a turn from the Strand to Hasbrouck avenue," and made contact with the Haff vehicle. She was taken to her mother and was to be treated by a doctor, the report said.

OFFICERS Joseph Kivlan and Hydrect Armstrong reported at 8:35 p. m., that the car of David Edward Simmons, 23, of 94 Washington avenue, Saugerties, headed west on Pine Grove avenue, struck and damaged a gate post at the entrance to Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Simmons said the gas pedal stuck, the officers reported. The car was damaged on its front, but Simmons claimed no personal injuries.

Veto Overhangs Vote

Washington, April 21 (AP)—The likelihood of a presidential veto today overhung a House vote to boost the pay of the nation's 500,000 postal workers an average of 8.2 per cent. President Eisenhower last year refused to sign a 7 per cent postal pay increase voted by Congress on the ground it was not accompanied by a revenue-raising hike in postal rates. His veto came after Congress adjourned and there was no opportunity to vote on overriding it. The House yesterday followed suit and approved an 8.2 per cent increase which would cost some 171 million dollars a year. The Senate bill is estimated to cost 220 millions.

Scout Troop 12 Holds Honor Court

The presentation of an Eagle Knot to Fred Burnett climaxed a Court of Honor held Friday night by Boy Scout Troop 12 at the Old Dutch Church. The meeting also served as part of the troop's 25th anniversary celebration.

Ralph Shapiro, scoutmaster, made the presentation to Burnett.

Other awards:

Life Scout to Bob Steuding, presented by Floyd L. Spencer, chairman of the troop committee.

Star Scout to George Skea, Dennis Stewart and Bob Fiore, presented by Richard Stewart, Explorer advisor.

First Class Rank to Bob Burnett, A. James Burns, Clifford Miller and Douglas Skea, presented by Edwin Ford, troop committeeman.

Second Class to Dave Basch, Norman Clausen, Bruce Fiore and Peter Falvey, presented by Carlton Deyo, assistant scoutmaster.

THE TROOP HONOR award was presented by Jerry Sampson by Scoutmaster Shapiro. As is the troop's custom, the recipient of this award is not informed that he is to be honored until the actual presentation.

Other events Friday night included the installation of the troop's junior officers. Scoutmaster Shapiro installed Bob Steuding as a senior patrol leader, and Peter Falvey as troop scribe.

Upon assuming his new duties, Steuding then installed John DeOlde, Bruce Fiore, Clifford Miller, Milan Pece and Dave Skea as patrol leaders, and Eugene Bates, Michael Celuch, Phillip Kight, Tom McGrath and Martin Tirsch as assistant patrol leaders.

Troop and Post charter presentations were made and registration cards presented to committeemen and leaders by Edward Safford, district commissioner.

THE SCOUTS received their registration cards from Alan McCorkle, vice-chairman of the troop committee, assisted by William McGinnis, assistant scoutmaster. Explorer cards were distributed by Russell Edwards and Robert Fiore, assistant explorer advisors.

Graduation of older Scouts from the troop to the Explorer Post was supervised by Explorer Advisor Stewart.

Merit badges were handed out by McCorkle.

Frank Teel, field scout executive, brought greetings from Rip Van Winkle Council and read messages from Ray Quackenbush, council president, and George V. Dennis, executive.

A tenderfoot investiture service for Dave Basch was in charge of Committee Chairman Spencer, with Indian tribe ceremonies under the direction of Scoutmaster Shapiro.

Action Without TV

Wilder, Idaho (AP) — Members of the Wilder Fire Department were sitting around listening to a fire siren on their television set. Suddenly it struck them they heard two sirens. One was their own, and they rushed out to douse a small blaze at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Patrick.

TWO-WAY TREAT—Terry Bretzke likes flapjacks, as anyone can see. The eight-year-old Boy Scout from Minneapolis, Minn. dug in not only to fill his tummy, but also to fill the coffers of a fund to build a crippled children's summer camp. The Minneapolis Southwest Lions Club invited Terry's scout troop to a pancake-eating contest and donated 50c to the camp for each flapjack the boys ate.

Scout Troop 12 Holds Honor Court

The presentation of an Eagle Knot to Fred Burnett climaxed a Court of Honor held Friday night by Boy Scout Troop 12 at the Old Dutch Church. The meeting also served as part of the troop's 25th anniversary celebration.

Ralph Shapiro, scoutmaster, made the presentation to Burnett.

Other awards:

Life Scout to Bob Steuding, presented by Floyd L. Spencer, chairman of the troop committee.

Star Scout to George Skea, Dennis Stewart and Bob Fiore, presented by Richard Stewart, Explorer advisor.

First Class Rank to Bob Burnett, A. James Burns, Clifford Miller and Douglas Skea, presented by Edwin Ford, troop committeeman.

Second Class to Dave Basch, Norman Clausen, Bruce Fiore and Peter Falvey, presented by Carlton Deyo, assistant scoutmaster.

THE TROOP HONOR award was presented by Jerry Sampson by Scoutmaster Shapiro. As is the troop's custom, the recipient of this award is not informed that he is to be honored until the actual presentation.

Other events Friday night included the installation of the troop's junior officers. Scoutmaster Shapiro installed Bob Steuding as a senior patrol leader, and Peter Falvey as troop scribe.

Upon assuming his new duties, Steuding then installed John DeOlde, Bruce Fiore, Clifford Miller, Milan Pece and Dave Skea as patrol leaders, and Eugene Bates, Michael Celuch, Phillip Kight, Tom McGrath and Martin Tirsch as assistant patrol leaders.

Troop and Post charter presentations were made and registration cards presented to committeemen and leaders by Edward Safford, district commissioner.

THE SCOUTS received their registration cards from Alan McCorkle, vice-chairman of the troop committee, assisted by William McGinnis, assistant scoutmaster. Explorer cards were distributed by Russell Edwards and Robert Fiore, assistant explorer advisors.

Graduation of older Scouts from the troop to the Explorer Post was supervised by Explorer Advisor Stewart.

Merit badges were handed out by McCorkle.

Frank Teel, field scout executive, brought greetings from Rip Van Winkle Council and read messages from Ray Quackenbush, council president, and George V. Dennis, executive.

A tenderfoot investiture service for Dave Basch was in charge of Committee Chairman Spencer, with Indian tribe ceremonies under the direction of Scoutmaster Shapiro.

Action Without TV

Wilder, Idaho (AP) — Members of the Wilder Fire Department were sitting around listening to a fire siren on their television set. Suddenly it struck them they heard two sirens. One was their own, and they rushed out to douse a small blaze at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Patrick.

TWO-WAY TREAT—Terry Bretzke likes flapjacks, as anyone can see. The eight-year-old Boy Scout from Minneapolis, Minn. dug in not only to fill his tummy, but also to fill the coffers of a fund to build a crippled children's summer camp. The Minneapolis Southwest Lions Club invited Terry's scout troop to a pancake-eating contest and donated 50c to the camp for each flapjack the boys ate.

Mackey Flings One-Hitter; Marlboro and Saugerties Win

Hurler Checks Wallkill Squad

Fashioning a one-hitter, young George Mackey of Marlboro grabbed the brass ring first time around as area schoolboy baseball began its springtime merry-go-round yesterday. Marlboro romped to an 11-0 victory over Wallkill in a UCAL contest. Wallkill's Wright spoiled a dream game for Mackey, as the righthander fanned 11 men and gave up just three walks.

Fallsburgh used three pitchers in trying to plug the dikes against a free-hitting Kerhonkson club which rapped out 14 hits, scoring a 19-13 win over Fallsburgh. John Mustion clouted a circuit blast for Kerhonkson. Probst had a double and went 3 for 4 for the Indians. He struck out eight for a better-than-average afternoon, as Kerhonkson clustered eight runs behind him in the second frame.

BILL STRAUB'S Saugerties nine collected seven hits off two Windham chuckers and registered a 6-3 decision. Hanson doubled for Saugerties, and Martin came up with an extra-ply effort

Onteora, awaiting league action Friday, scored a 9-5 win over Fleischmans, as Germond gave up six hits, while Onteora collected nine off Jochim.

Dodgers Up With 9th; Roberts vs Brooks

(By The Associated Press)

So now the Brooklyns have won themselves nine straight games.

And all they have to do to take no. 10—and set a modern Major League record for consecutive victories at season's start—is beat a gent named Robin Roberts today.

The streak has been getting tougher and tougher for the Dodgers and this afternoon's game at Ebbets Field may be the toughest yet. Roberts, the best righthander in baseball, off to his best start in four years. Robin is 2-0 thus far, beating the World Champion New York Giants twice—no-hitting them for 8 1/3 innings opening day and hanging on for 11 innings Sunday. Both decisions were by 4-2 counts. Only two of the Giants' runs were earned.

FOR A TIME last night, it looked like the Brooks wouldn't have any streak for Roberts to challenge. They were shut out on one hit by Steve Ridzik for 7 2/3 innings. Then he tired and walked in a run that sent the Dodgers off on a three-run inning and a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

The Baltimore Orioles made the best of Bob Grim's wildness and a two-run homer by Hal Smith to beat the New York Yankees 6-3 and win their first decision of the American League season. They had lost six.

In the only other AL game, league-leading Boston beat Washington 1-0 on Willard Nixon's five-hiter. The Chicago-Detroit game was rained out.

IN THE NATIONAL, St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 3-0 and Milwaukee clipped Chicago 9-5. Winless Pittsburgh was leading the Giants 3-0 when rain halted play after three innings.

The Dodgers made the most of Ridzik's wildness in the seventh. The righthander, who worked only nine innings in the spring exhibitions, loaded the bases by walking Roy Campanella and pinch-hitter George Shuba and hitting Jackie Robinson. When he walked Duke Snider to force in the run, Lynn Lovenguth was called in to relieve. Gil Hodges swatted a single up the middle for two runs and the ball game.

That tied the 1955 Brooks with the 1918 Giants, 1940 Dodger's and 1944 St. Louis Browns, who shared the record of nine straight victories at the start of a season. Only the Browns went on to win the pennant.

BALTIMORE made the most of their winter deals to break into the win colmn. Irv. Palica and Ray Moore, ex-Dodgers, Combined to six-hit the Yankees while Billy Cox, another former Brook, got one hit and scored twice. Gene Woodling, who like Smith went to the Orioles in the deal that sent Bob Turley to the Yanks, drove in one run and singled before Smith swatted his homer. Willie Miranda, another ex-Yank, came up with several great plays at shortstop.

Grim, the AL rookie of the year last season and a 20-game winner, used 55 pitches to retire four men before leaving in the second.

Milwaukee got its big push from Bobby Thomson, who smacked his second major league grand-slammer in the second and later singled home another run. Lew Burdette was touched for 13 hits by the Cubs, with homers by Harry Chiti and Dee Fondy among them. He left with three runs in, two out and the bases loaded in the ninth. Rookie Umberto Robinson struck out clean-up man Hank Sauer to end it.

'I Take 'Eeem Easy'

Zulueta Decisions Lightweight Champ

Washington, April 21 (AP)—"For the championship, I take him easy," Cuba's Orlando Zulueta said today after winning a 10-round split decision from lightweight champion Jimmy Carter last night.

Carter, whose title wasn't at stake in last night's bout over a national television hookup, didn't have a word to say. But his manager, Willie Ketchum, made up for it. "What a lousy decision," Ketchum howled "Jimmy beat him. He beat him good."

It was the old story of a puncher, Carter, against a boxer, Zulueta. Jabbing with steady consistency, Zulueta frequently showed contempt for Carter, the heavier hitter, and actually was outslugging him at the final bell.

"I know it is too late for him to knock me out," Zulueta said with a grin. "So I slug with him and give the crowd a show."

THE CROWD of 1,000, including a sizable contingent from the Washington Cuban colony, whooped it up for Zulueta. The Cuban ambassador, Miguel Angel Campa, hopped into the ring to shake his hand when it was over.

Both fighters were over the lightweight limit, Carter at 137, Zulueta at 137½, but the Cuban said he was confident he could win the title at the legal limit.

Here's how the fight was scored: Referee Harry Volkman, 96-93 for Zulueta; Judge Joe Bunsa 97-94 for Zulueta; Judge Benny Alperstein 97-93 for Carter.

Gerry Reed of Jones Dairy got off with a 166, sandwiched in a 192 and produced a 483 to lead the Pioneer Women's League last night. Mabel Chapman produced a 475 with a middle 180, and Gen Whitmore fired a 460 triple.

Next best was Dottie LaRocca's 455, and Cleo Rodden's 453. Doris Shultis turned in a 448 with a high single of 172. Margie Boyce had the same triple with games of 135-154-159. Ethel Howard had 453 with a middle game of 178, and Alberta Bonce 450 triple with a last game 179.

Mackey Flings One-Hitter; Marlboro and Saugerties Win

Hurler Checks Wallkill Squad

Fashioning a one-hitter, young George Mackey of Marlboro grabbed the brass ring first time around as area schoolboy baseball began its springtime merry-go-round yesterday. Marlboro romped to an 11-0 victory over Wallkill in a UCAL contest. Wallkill's Wright spoiled a dream game for Mackey, as the righthander fanned 11 men and gave up just three walks.

Fallsburgh used three pitchers in trying to plug the dikes against a free-hitting Kerhonkson club which rapped out 14 hits, scoring a 19-13 win over Fallsburgh. John Mustion clouted a circuit blast for Kerhonkson. Probst had a double and went 3 for 4 for the Indians. He struck out eight for a better-than-average afternoon, as Kerhonkson clustered eight runs behind him in the second frame.

BILL STRAUB'S Saugerties nine collected seven hits off two Windham chuckers and registered a 6-3 decision. Hanson doubled for Saugerties, and Martin came up with an extra-ply effort

Onteora, awaiting league action Friday, scored a 9-5 win over Fleischmans, as Germond gave up six hits, while Onteora collected nine off Jochim.

Dodgers Up With 9th; Roberts vs Brooks

(By The Associated Press)

So now the Brooklyns have won themselves nine straight games.

And all they have to do to take no. 10—and set a modern Major League record for consecutive victories at season's start—is beat a gent named Robin Roberts today.

The streak has been getting tougher and tougher for the Dodgers and this afternoon's game at Ebbets Field may be the toughest yet. Roberts, the best righthander in baseball, off to his best start in four years. Robin is 2-0 thus far, beating the World Champion New York Giants twice—no-hitting them for 8 1/3 innings opening day and hanging on for 11 innings Sunday. Both decisions were by 4-2 counts. Only two of the Giants' runs were earned.

FOR A TIME last night, it looked like the Brooks wouldn't have any streak for Roberts to challenge. They were shut out on one hit by Steve Ridzik for 7 2/3 innings. Then he tired and walked in a run that sent the Dodgers off on a three-run inning and a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

The Baltimore Orioles made the best of Bob Grim's wildness and a two-run homer by Hal Smith to beat the New York Yankees 6-3 and win their first decision of the American League season. They had lost six.

In the only other AL game, league-leading Boston beat Washington 1-0 on Willard Nixon's five-hiter. The Chicago-Detroit game was rained out.

IN THE NATIONAL, St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 3-0 and Milwaukee clipped Chicago 9-5. Winless Pittsburgh was leading the Giants 3-0 when rain halted play after three innings.

The Dodgers made the most of Ridzik's wildness in the seventh. The righthander, who worked only nine innings in the spring exhibitions, loaded the bases by walking Roy Campanella and pinch-hitter George Shuba and hitting Jackie Robinson. When he walked Duke Snider to force in the run, Lynn Lovenguth was called in to relieve. Gil Hodges swatted a single up the middle for two runs and the ball game.

That tied the 1955 Brooks with the 1918 Giants, 1940 Dodger's and 1944 St. Louis Browns, who shared the record of nine straight victories at the start of a season. Only the Browns went on to win the pennant.

BALTIMORE made the most of their winter deals to break into the win colmn. Irv. Palica and Ray Moore, ex-Dodgers, Combined to six-hit the Yankees while Billy Cox, another former Brook, got one hit and scored twice. Gene Woodling, who like Smith went to the Orioles in the deal that sent Bob Turley to the Yanks, drove in one run and singled before Smith swatted his homer. Willie Miranda, another ex-Yank, came up with several great plays at shortstop.

Grim, the AL rookie of the year last season and a 20-game winner, used 55 pitches to retire four men before leaving in the second.

Milwaukee got its big push from Bobby Thomson, who smacked his second major league grand-slammer in the second and later singled home another run. Lew Burdette was touched for 13 hits by the Cubs, with homers by Harry Chiti and Dee Fondy among them. He left with three runs in, two out and the bases loaded in the ninth. Rookie Umberto Robinson struck out clean-up man Hank Sauer to end it.

'I Take 'Eeem Easy'

Zulueta Decisions Lightweight Champ

Washington, April 21 (AP)—"For the championship, I take him easy," Cuba's Orlando Zulueta said today after winning a 10-round split decision from lightweight champion Jimmy Carter last night.

Carter, whose title wasn't at stake in last night's bout over a national television hookup, didn't have a word to say. But his manager, Willie Ketchum, made up for it. "What a lousy decision," Ketchum howled "Jimmy beat him. He beat him good."

It was the old story of a puncher, Carter, against a boxer, Zulueta. Jabbing with steady consistency, Zulueta frequently showed contempt for Carter, the heavier hitter, and actually was outslugging him at the final bell.

"I know it is too late for him to knock me out," Zulueta said with a grin. "So I slug with him and give the crowd a show."

THE CROWD of 1,000, including a sizable contingent from the Washington Cuban colony, whooped it up for Zulueta. The Cuban ambassador, Miguel Angel Campa, hopped into the ring to shake his hand when it was over.

Both fighters were over the lightweight limit, Carter at 137, Zulueta at 137½, but the Cuban said he was confident he could win the title at the legal limit.

Here's how the fight was scored: Referee Harry Volkman, 96-93 for Zulueta; Judge Joe Bunsa 97-94 for Zulueta; Judge Benny Alperstein 97-93 for Carter.

Gerry Reed of Jones Dairy got off with a 166, sandwiched in a 192 and produced a 483 to lead the Pioneer Women's League last night. Mabel Chapman produced a 475 with a middle 180, and Gen Whitmore fired a 460 triple.

Next best was Dottie LaRocca's 455, and Cleo Rodden's 453. Doris Shultis turned in a 448 with a high single of 172. Margie Boyce had the same triple with games of 135-154-159. Ethel Howard had 453 with a middle game of 178, and Alberta Bonce 450 triple with a last game 179.

Wes Santee Feels Dream Mile Near

Lawrence, Kan., April 21 (AP)—Wes Santee, America's greatest distance star, says he feels the 4-minute mile will be within his grasp Saturday if weather conditions are good.

The long-legged lad from western Kansas hopes to beat the world record 3:58, set by Australia's John Landy last year, in the 30th Kansas relays here Saturday.

The only other man to run the mile in less than 4 minutes is Dr. Roger Bannister of London who had a 3:59.4.

"I think I'm ready to unwrap a good one if the weather is right," the ever-confident Santee said today. "I haven't run competitively since the Texas relays April 2 and my reserve is good."

IN THE TEXAS relays Santee, who received his degree from the University of Kansas at mid-term, lowered his own American mile record to 4:00.5.

Santee, who has traveled the mile under 4:10 more often than any man on record — 29 times officially — figures the home crowd will be a big boost in his latest bid for the 4-minute job.

"This will possibly be my last home race before I enter the marines so I want to make it my best," Wes declared.

SANTEE IS scheduled to go into the marines as a first lieutenant this summer.

Bill Easton, University of Kansas track coach and director of the relays, says Wes is "primed" for a great race.

"Given good weather conditions Wes will run the race of his life," Easton said. "He's primed for a supreme effort. He's rested, in perfect physical shape and will have top-notch pacing from a couple of his old teammates."

DICK WILSON and Art Dalzell of Kansas will do the pacesetting.

In addition to Santee, nine others have filed for the mile. They are Charles (Deacon) Jones, University of Iowa freshman sensation; Ted Wheeler, of Iowa and Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.; Ed Morton, Arkansas; Bob Soth and Ray McConnell, Drake; Bob Buchanan, Oklahoma; Joe Reyna, southwest Texas State, and Dalzell and Wilson.

Harper Favored

Virginia Beach, Va., April 21 (AP)—Stylist Chandler Harper, a familiar figure on the professional golf scene for years, appeared a pretty fair bet today to win the third annual $17,500 Virginia Beach Open tournament as first round play in the 72-hole event got underway. Harper, a native of nearby Portsmouth, Va., is no stranger to the par 69 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course. The slender star with brilliant iron shots and deadly putting knows every inch of the level 6,065-yard layout. Harper fashioned a 63 Monday and came back with a 64 yesterday in the Pro Amateur curtain raiser to the main event.

Detroit Keglers Top ABC Action

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 21 (AP)—Two Detroit Bowlers who helped their team take first place in the American Bowling Congress Tournament were the big stars in yesterday's competition.

Fred Bujack, one of the big guns in putting the Pfeiffer's Beer team into first place Tuesday with a 3,136 total, took over first place in the all events and moved into the runner-up spot in the singles. His teammate, Therm Gibson, shot into fourth place in the all-events.

BUJACK fired a 631 in the doubles and a big 735 in the singles to add to his 627 in team competition to take first place in the all-events with 1,993. He held a 33 pin bulge over Ed Markulis of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, the previous leader.

Gibson rolled a 1,935 in the all events. In addition to his 680 in team competition, he had 600 in doubles yesterday and added 655 in singles.

Bill Urquhart, of Seattle, Wash., shot games of 221, 247 and 225 for 693 and seventh place.

Wes Santee Feels Dream Mile Near

Lawrence, Kan., April 21 (AP)—Wes Santee, America's greatest distance star, says he feels the 4-minute mile will be within his grasp Saturday if weather conditions are good.

The long-legged lad from western Kansas hopes to beat the world record 3:58, set by Australia's John Landy last year, in the 30th Kansas relays here Saturday.

The only other man to run the mile in less than 4 minutes is Dr. Roger Bannister of London who had a 3:59.4.

"I think I'm ready to unwrap a good one if the weather is right," the ever-confident Santee said today. "I haven't run competitively since the Texas relays April 2 and my reserve is good."

IN THE TEXAS relays Santee, who received his degree from the University of Kansas at mid-term, lowered his own American mile record to 4:00.5.

Santee, who has traveled the mile under 4:10 more often than any man on record — 29 times officially — figures the home crowd will be a big boost in his latest bid for the 4-minute job.

"This will possibly be my last home race before I enter the marines so I want to make it my best," Wes declared.

SANTEE IS scheduled to go into the marines as a first lieutenant this summer.

Bill Easton, University of Kansas track coach and director of the relays, says Wes is "primed" for a great race.

"Given good weather conditions Wes will run the race of his life," Easton said. "He's primed for a supreme effort. He's rested, in perfect physical shape and will have top-notch pacing from a couple of his old teammates."

DICK WILSON and Art Dalzell of Kansas will do the pacesetting.

In addition to Santee, nine others have filed for the mile. They are Charles (Deacon) Jones, University of Iowa freshman sensation; Ted Wheeler, of Iowa and Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.; Ed Morton, Arkansas; Bob Soth and Ray McConnell, Drake; Bob Buchanan, Oklahoma; Joe Reyna, southwest Texas State, and Dalzell and Wilson.

Harper Favored

Virginia Beach, Va., April 21 (AP)—Stylist Chandler Harper, a familiar figure on the professional golf scene for years, appeared a pretty fair bet today to win the third annual $17,500 Virginia Beach Open tournament as first round play in the 72-hole event got underway. Harper, a native of nearby Portsmouth, Va., is no stranger to the par 69 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course. The slender star with brilliant iron shots and deadly putting knows every inch of the level 6,065-yard layout. Harper fashioned a 63 Monday and came back with a 64 yesterday in the Pro Amateur curtain raiser to the main event.

LOST—Nine-year-old Charles Hopkins and his dog, Spot, comfort each other at a Washington, D. C., police station April 19 while efforts were being made to locate his father. Charles explained, police said, that he and his father became separated at a movie shortly after their arrival in Washington from Lawrence, Mass., and after the show he couldn't find his father. The boy and the dog were temporarily parted — Charles was sent to the Receiving Home, and Spot rested at the Animal Rescue League — while police tried to locate the father. (AP Wirephoto).

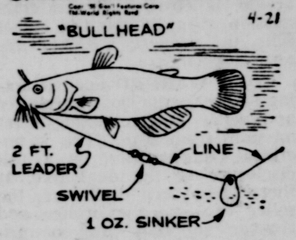
CATFISH FISHING



A "FISH-FINDER" TYPE OF RIG LETS CATFISH TAKE BAIT AND SWIM AWAY WITHOUT FEELING THE ALARMING SINKER'S WEIGHT. SWIVEL PREVENTS SINKER'S SLIDING DOWN TO HOOK DURING CAST. LINE PAYS OUT THROUGH SINKER'S EYE WHEN FISH SWIMS AWAY. SET REEL'S DRAG JUST TIGHT ENOUGH TO AVOID SLACK WHILE AWAITING FISH. THIS RIG IS IDEAL IN STILL-FISHING FOR OTHER BOTTOM-FEEDING FISH.

CATFISH FEED BEST AT NIGHT, DAWN, AND DARK, CLOUDY DAYS. AS CLEAR WATER TURNS MUDDY, THEY BEGIN FEEDING HEAVILY.

All Scared

Lynchburg, Va. (AP)—Lieutenant Floyd L. Doss, of Lynchburg, one of the few men to bail out of a 600-mile per hour B-47 jet bomber, admits it was scary plunging out into midnight darkness. But Doss and two other crew members were not the only ones who were scared. Two men were at a small lake where the plane fell, preparing for some night fishing. "When they saw the bomber, with all its landing lights on, come swooping down at them, they first jumped into the water and then took off through the woods," Doss said. Doss and his two companions escaped with minor injuries, but Doss spent over six hours in the top of a South Carolina pine tree before National Guardsmen got him down.

NOTICE OF CHANGE
In Electric Rate Schedule

An amendment to rate schedule P.S.C. No. 11—Electricity issued February 8, 1955 to become effective March 10, 1955, revises the provisions of the Service Connections rule relating to the portions of permanent overhead section connections to be furnished by the company and the customer.

Under the revised rule, overhead service connections from overhead distribution lines adjacent to the customer's premises permanently installed to supply electricity for continuing use will be provided by the company at its expense unless a pole is necessary to provide required support and clearance for the wires or cable over the customer's property or to effect a particular routing of the connection requested by the customer. Where such poles are required, the company at its expense will provide the portion of the service connection from its distribution lines to the first such pole, which is to be located on the customer's property; and the customer at his expense will install and maintain all such poles and the wire or cable from the first such pole to the terminal of the service connection.

HE'S AN ABC VETERAN—Harry Steers, who is taking part in his 50th American Bowling Congress tournament, sits atop a pile of bowling pins at Fort Wayne, Ind. (Apr. 19). Steers, from Chicago, estimates he has knocked over about 140 tons of pins in his 50 years of ABC competition. (AP Wirephoto)

BOWLING SCORES

Shufeldt Leads With 678

George Shufeldt blasted the maples for a tremendous 678 triple last night in the Central Rec Major League. Shufeldt opened with a 241 single and crashed 236 in the middle game. The venerable Georgie Robinson hammered out a 257 opening game, and fired through to a 642. One of the other "pros" was Harold Broskie, who singled a 229 to open, and topped off the evening's work with a 635.

Topping the "500" club for the night were Larry Petersen, Jr., on a 599 with a middle 225. Dick Howard's 212 in the last canto upped him to a 584 for the night, while Frank Grimaldi turned in a 198 in the middle and a total 588. Eddie Murphy got off to games of 191-199 and topped it with a 201 for a 591 night. Joe McGrane had a 587 with a middle 192.

C. Bruck's 515 with a last game single of 183 highlighted the action in the Central Hudson league. Bruck produced a 183 in the last frame. George Glaser's 186 on his last roll gave him a 508 for the night. The Spoilers and High Balls were the best team efforts.

GIL MARTIN'S LUNCH will probably have food on the house as the result of the final standings in the Chalet Pioneer Woman's League. There'll be a play-off for second next week between Century Cement and Let-Us Inn. Cherney's, Snyder's Chicks and Andersen's Hardware finished in that order.

June Van Kleeck climaxed the league season with a 467 triple, and Louise Williams was breathing on her neck with 176 single and a 466 triple.

Vaughn's dropped three to Zimmer's in the Chalet Leaders League last night, and Schryver's defeated Rune's, 2-1. Yonetti's edged the Rosendale Florists, 2-1. High single was turned in by R. Dellay with a 220. V. Kuhn fired a 206, and R. Karlson a 207. Dellay's 553 was the best triple efort of the night. P. Post netted a 548. Gil Kelder, Jr., posted a 526, and F. Dettori came through with a 521. B. Burger's 504 completed the "500" cycle.

Comforter Nails Down Fed Title

Comforter nailed down the 1954-55 championship of the Church Federation American League Wednesday night by sweeping three from runnerup Burrough's Club.

The Wynkoop Place keglers finished the year with a mark of 49 to 35.

The closeness of the race reflected in the rest of the standings.

As a result of last night's action Clinton Avenue, Burrough's Club and St. James finished in a dead heat for runnerup honors with 46-38 records.

THE THREE CLUBS are scheduled to bowl next Tuesday night at the Y with total pinnage for the three games settling the second place finisher.

Doug Kennedy sparked Comforter to its clincher last night with a 550 blast. Teammate Bill Hornbeck fashioned 537 and Jack Bigler helped with a 453.

The rest of the loop found Perc Slover hammering 202-524; Art Crist, the league's efficient secretary, 510; Frank Norman 506; Ralph Post 226-512; Craig Plough 504; Ken Powell 476; Art Carr 470; Hod Spaulding 462 and Jack Spader 444.

Last night's results:

Comforter 3, Burrough's Club 0; Trinity Lutheran 2, Clinton Avenue 1; Rotary Club 2, St. James 1; Fair Street 2, First Baptists 1.

Goose Tatum Given Release by Trotters

Chicago, April 21 (AP) — Abe Saperstein, owner-coach of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, has given Reece "Goose" Tatum, the team's veteran clowning center, his unconditional release.

"Tatum was suspended last month because of repeated violations of team rules and regulations," Saperstein said in a statement yesterday.

"THIS WAS climaxed by his unauthorized absence from the squad through a series of seven advertised and scheduled appearances. Tatum has not been in touch with me since I suspended him. I will not take up my option on his contract for next season. This means he is unconditionally released and will not be with the Globetrotters again."

Saperstein's decision ends 14 years of association between him and the loose, long-armed Tatum, who reportedly, was being paid $53,000 annually for his services.

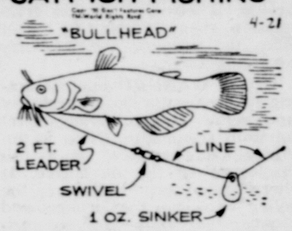
CATFISH FISHING



A "FISH-FINDER" TYPE OF RIG LETS CATFISH TAKE BAIT AND SWIM AWAY WITHOUT FEELING THE ALARMING SINKER'S WEIGHT. SWIVEL PREVENTS SINKER'S SLIDING DOWN TO HOOK DURING CAST. LINE PAYS OUT THROUGH SINKER'S EYE WHEN FISH SWIMS AWAY. SET REEL'S DRAG JUST TIGHT ENOUGH TO AVOID SLACK WHILE AWAITING FISH. THIS RIG IS IDEAL IN STILL-FISHING FOR OTHER BOTTOM-FEEDING FISH.

CATFISH FEED BEST AT NIGHT, DAWN, AND DARK, CLOUDY DAYS. AS CLEAR WATER TURNS MUDDY, THEY BEGIN FEEDING HEAVILY.

All Scared

Lynchburg, Va. (AP)—Lieutenant Floyd L. Doss, of Lynchburg, one of the few men to bail out of a 600-mile per hour B-47 jet bomber, admits it was scary plunging out into midnight darkness. But Doss and two other crew members were not the only ones who were scared. Two men were at a small lake where the plane fell, preparing for some night fishing. "When they saw the bomber, with all its landing lights on, come swooping down at them, they first jumped into the water and then took off through the woods," Doss said. Doss and his two companions escaped with minor injuries, but Doss spent over six hours in the top of a South Carolina pine tree before National Guardsmen got him down.

Shufeldt Leads With 678

George Shufeldt blasted the maples for a tremendous 678 triple last night in the Central Rec Major League. Shufeldt opened with a 241 single and crashed 236 in the middle game. The venerable Georgie Robinson hammered out a 257 opening game, and fired through to a 642. One of the other "pros" was Harold Broskie, who singled a 229 to open, and topped off the evening's work with a 635.

Topping the "500" club for the night were Larry Petersen, Jr., on a 599 with a middle 225. Dick Howard's 212 in the last canto upped him to a 584 for the night, while Frank Grimaldi turned in a 198 in the middle and a total 588. Eddie Murphy got off to games of 191-199 and topped it with a 201 for a 591 night. Joe McGrane had a 587 with a middle 192.

C. Bruck's 515 with a last game single of 183 highlighted the action in the Central Hudson league. Bruck produced a 183 in the last frame. George Glaser's 186 on his last roll gave him a 508 for the night. The Spoilers and High Balls were the best team efforts.

GIL MARTIN'S LUNCH will probably have food on the house as the result of the final standings in the Chalet Pioneer Woman's League. There'll be a play-off for second next week between Century Cement and Let-Us Inn. Cherney's, Snyder's Chicks and Andersen's Hardware finished in that order.

June Van Kleeck climaxed the league season with a 467 triple, and Louise Williams was breathing on her neck with 176 single and a 466 triple.

Vaughn's dropped three to Zimmer's in the Chalet Leaders League last night, and Schryver's defeated Rune's, 2-1. Yonetti's edged the Rosendale Florists, 2-1. High single was turned in by R. Dellay with a 220. V. Kuhn fired a 206, and R. Karlson a 207. Dellay's 553 was the best triple efort of the night. P. Post netted a 548. Gil Kelder, Jr., posted a 526, and F. Dettori came through with a 521. B. Burger's 504 completed the "500" cycle.

Goose Tatum Given Release by Trotters

Chicago, April 21 (AP) — Abe Saperstein, owner-coach of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, has given Reece "Goose" Tatum, the team's veteran clowning center, his unconditional release.

"Tatum was suspended last month because of repeated violations of team rules and regulations," Saperstein said in a statement yesterday.

"THIS WAS climaxed by his unauthorized absence from the squad through a series of seven advertised and scheduled appearances. Tatum has not been in touch with me since I suspended him. I will not take up my option on his contract for next season. This means he is unconditionally released and will not be with the Globetrotters again."

Saperstein's decision ends 14 years of association between him and the loose, long-armed Tatum, who reportedly, was being paid $53,000 annually for his services.

Ulster Man Gets Year's Sentence

Albert Weiss, town of Ulster, on April 6, last, entered a plea of guilty to reckless driving and on his promise to leave the state and go to Virginia, Judge Cashin suspended imposition of any sentence. At that time Weiss was charged with driving while intoxicated as a second offender. Charles Saccoman appeared for Weiss at that time.

On April 17 Weiss was arrested and taken before Justice Macholdt of the town of Ulster on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Chief Probation Officer Edmund U. Burhans charged Weiss with violation of probation and on being arraigned in County court today Weiss admitted he was the person before Justice Macholdt. On the charge of violation of probation County Judge Cashin sentenced Weiss to a year in jail.

Myron Richard Coy, Modena, entered a plea of guilty to violation of Section 1897, Sub. 3, in that on Jan. 2, 1955, he had in his possession a switch-blade knife without a proper license. Charles Saccoman appeared for Coy and imposition of sentence was postponed until next Monday at 2 o'clock.

A JURY in the contract insurance action brought by Thomas J., and Edward W. Hallenbeck against Fireman's Fund Insurance Company of California, was unable to agree and was discharged late Wednesday afternoon. This is the second time a jury has been unable to agree. The case was tried last November and resulted in a disagreement. H. Edgar Timmerman appeared for plaintiff and George Rusk for defendant. The action involves damage to a barn roof which it is claimed was damaged by heavy snow.

A NEGLIGENCE action brought by Henry Harjes against the Board of Education of the city of Kingston, was announced settled. Richter and Werbalowski for plaintiff and A. E. Schiber for defendant.

A jury was selected and trial begun in an action for property damage brought by John G. Reynolds of Lackawack against Mrs. Janet Stokes, arising out of an accident at the corner of Washington avenue and Hurley avenue. John R. Heilman, Jr., of Poughkeepsie appears for plaintiff and Francis Tucker, trial counsel for Cook and Cook, for defendant.

Gold Explains

need not be in writing, Gold advised having a written agreement where the agreement was not to be completed within one year. In cases where a broker arranges for a lease which contains an option to purchase after one year, and the lessee exercises the option, the broker cannot recover his commission arising from the sale—unless he has a written agreement with the owner. The Statute of Frauds calls an oral agreement which is not to be performed within one year void.

Although brokers may draw contracts of sale Gold advised strongly against such practice, citing numerous examples of how a simple contract prepared without legal advice could lead to serious financial loss to the parties.

REFERRING to the licensing of brokers by the separate states, Gold pointed out that a broker could earn a commission bringing about a sale of property outside the state, provided the contract of sale or purchase was entered into in his own state. "The situs of contract controls—not the location of the property."

Dealing with the problem of "exclusive agency" as against an "exclusive right to sell" Gold said that under an exclusive agency the owner could sell his own property and the broker would not be entitled to commission, even though he might have expended considerable time and money trying to sell. "If the agreement with the owner, however, gives the broker the exclusive right to sell, then the broker is entitled to his commission even though the owner sells the property through his own efforts."

GOLD WARNED against acting as broker for both purchaser and seller and collecting commissions from both. "This is unethical, unless there is a full disclosure of the dual role. If there is no such disclosure, the seller can sue the broker and recover not only the commission he paid him, but also the commission he received from the purchaser."

Others who spoke briefly at the afternoon session were Louis Meckes, mortgage officer of the First National Bank, Poughkeepsie, and Harry G. Lamothe, SRA, Newburgh, president of the Orange County Realty Board.

Meckes discussed mortgage financing, describing the various types of mortgages, particularly in relation to the veteran.

LAMOTHE spoke on residential appraising, pointing out that appraising had now attained a scientific basis and was fast gaining recognition as a profession. He said he felt requirements for membership in the New York State Society of Real Estate Appraisers should be "tightened up," pointing out that many members were not properly qualified.

George W. Moore of Kingston served as moderator for the panel. The Ulster County Real Estate Board, of which Benson Krom is president, served as host to the conference which was sponsored by Lawrence J. MacAvery of Kingston, a regional vice-president and former president of the Ulster County Real Estate Board, Dutchess County Realty Board, Newburgh Real Estate Board, Orange County Realty Board, Putnam County Real Estate Board, Rockland County Real Estate Board, Ulster County Real Estate Board and the Westchester County Realty Board, all of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, Inc.

He said he felt requirements for membership in the New York State Society of Real Estate Appraisers should be "tightened up," pointing out that many members were not properly qualified.

George W. Moore of Kingston served as moderator for the panel. The Ulster County Real Estate Board, of which Benson Krom is president, served as host to the conference which was sponsored by Lawrence J. MacAvery of Kingston, a regional vice-president and former president of the Ulster County Real Estate Board, Dutchess County Realty Board, Newburgh Real Estate Board, Orange County Realty Board, Putnam County Real Estate Board, Rockland County Real Estate Board, Ulster County Real Estate Board and the Westchester County Realty Board, all of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, Inc.

False Tokens

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Sales on tokens from a defunct out-of-town bus line zoomed when "collectors" found they resembled the ones used in St. Paul buses. The Twin Cities Transit Co. said $150 worth of the spurious tokens showed up in its coin boxes one month.
